LOCAL JEWELERS FORMULATE PLANS TO BOOST LOWELL AT ANNUAL CONVENTION

Lowell jewelers are going to boost Lowell. Plans for a systematic campaign have already been started, and this city is to be heralded far and wide. Preliminary steps along this line were taken at an enthusiastic meeting of the jewelers of the city last night at the chamber of commerce, presided over by Frank Richard.

The big gun in the campaign will be fired at the 18th annual convention of the American National Retail Jew-

BOY SCOUTS ENJOY THEMSELVES TO THE FULL AT THEIR ISLAND POND CAMP

Nestling close to the shores of Island Pond, Pelham, N. H., lies the Lowell Boy Scouts' encampment. In this enchanted spot about 100 Lowell boys are learning, under the capable instruction of scoutmasters and leaders, the beauties of nature and the way to health and happiness.

The camp consists of eight or ten khaki tents laid out in orderly fashion on the brow of a hill within one-quarter of a mile of the shore of the pond. Healthy clean spring water is furnished by nature and the high commanding position of the camp does away with the mosquitoes.

This is the second week of the encampment and the number of boys was increased by 15 new arrivals who immediately joined in with the other 90 to enjoy camp life.

Scoutmaster Edwin Melton is in charge of the camp and he is assisted by Irvin A. Pearson, scoutmaster of Troop 1, Dracut; John Lambert, Jr., camp adjutant; Fred Brodigan, assistant scoutmaster and instructor in swimming and life-saving; Harris Gould, assistant scoutmaster, and Martin Flaherty, instructor in boxing and in horsemanship.

The program that the boys live by is posted on the bulletin board at the camp and is as follows: Breakfast, 7:45 a. m.; drill, 8:00; breakfast, 8:15; swimming, 8:45; inspection, 11:45; swim, 12 noon; luncheon, 1 p. m.; drill, 2:30; swimming, 4:45; retreat, 6:15; supper, 6:30; campfire, 8 o'clock; and taps, 10:15.

In addition to their regular scout life, there are two sports that make the greatest appeal to the boys, swimming and boxing. Fred Brodigan who has proven himself an exceptionally efficient teacher of swimming, has won the respect of the boys and taught them the best methods of life-saving and resuscitation. He is a member of the Red Cross life-saving corps here and will have a great many of the scouts capable of passing the Red Cross test before the encampment is over.

Martin Flaherty, Jr., Lowell's popular young boxer, has instilled in the scouts a love of clean boxing. Boxing

OUTING AT SALISBURY

Children From French-American Orphanage Enjoy Day at Salisbury Beach

Through the generosity of Dr. A. J. Gannon and a group of liberal citizens who donated automobiles, three hundred boys and girls of the French-American orphanage are enjoying an outing at Salisbury beach today. The youngsters left the Pawtucket street institution about 9 o'clock this morning and presented a happy picture as they passed through the downtown streets of the city preparatory to reaching the first street boulevard and the state highway along the Merrimack. Perfect cooling weather prevailed, the first real weather of the week in fact, and the sponsors of the affair smiled in appreciation.

Accompanying the children to the beach were Sister Collette, superior of the home, Rev. Avier Amyot and Rev. Alphonse Archambault of St. Joseph's church. Under their guidance, games were played on the sandy beach and a sumptuous luncheon served at noon.

The automobiles used for transportation were donated by the following: Stephen Robitette, Adolphe Delisle, Joseph Dandaneau, Willis J. Pelletier, Amelée Archambault, B. J. Bevin, W. Robitaille, Rodrick E. Jodoin, Joseph E. Lambert, Joseph A. Desrosiers, Arthur Courcy, Victor E. Desrosiers, Dr. L. V. Rochette, Leon Gagnon, Amelée Lepin, J. A. Pilon, Joseph Albert, Pierre T. Gagnon, P. N. Cossette, Paul Vigeant, A. Lamontagne, Theo. Matte, Gilbert Gaudy, Pierre LeBlanc, Albert Bergeron, Oswald Timothee, Timothee Vigeant, Lillian Cognac, Zephirin Normandin, Francis Leclerc, George A. Bryant and Nelson Pepin.

HEARING ON CLAIMS

The claims committee of the city council, consisting of Daniel P. Moriarty, chairman, will meet tonight at 8 o'clock to hear petitioners who have filed claims against the city. No awards will be made and the committee and city collector will take all cases heard under advisement.

STRIKING TELEPHONE OPERATORS OF N. E. VOTE TO RETURN TO WORK

Boston Strikers Voted Almost Unanimously in Favor of Accepting Recent Offer of Company—Unexpected Opposition to Returning to Work in Framingham and Fall River—Majority, However, Favor Ending Strike

BOSTON, July 26.—The strike of telephone operators in New England was declared off, effective at 3 o'clock this afternoon, by Julia S. O'Connor, president of the telephone operators' department, International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, at 1 o'clock today. Miss O'Connor was the leader of the strike which has been in force since June 26 for a seven hour day and higher wages.

Miss O'Connor made the following statement: "In commendation of the Massachusetts state board of conciliation and arbitration, the telephone operators' strike has been terminated and will end officially at 3 o'clock this afternoon."

"The New England council of telephone operators' unions recommended that the strike be ended and the membership in sustaining this recommendation was influenced by the state board's assurance that its good offices would be available in making an adjustment incident to the settlement of the strike."

Vote in Favor of Returning

BOSTON, July 26.—The striking telephone operators of New England in their ballot yesterday voted to return to work. Miss Teresa Sullivan, general secretary of the Boston local, telephone operators' department, International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, announced today upon completion of the tabulation of the vote.

The striking Boston telephone operators voted almost unanimously in favor of accepting the recent offer of the New England Telephone & Telegraph Co. to reinstatement operators as individuals with the loss of their seniority rights, Miss Sullivan said.

Unexpected opposition to returning to work developed in Framingham and Fall River, she said, but added that despite this and the opposition vote recorded in Providence and Worcester, the sentiment of strikers in the rest of the affected territory had resulted in a decisive majority vote in favor of ending the strike.

BANKERS MAY INTERPRET NEW LAW RELATIVE TO LOAN ORDERS FOR CITIES

In the final analysis it undoubtedly will be the banking interests who will interpret the new law relative to the negotiation of loan orders by cities, with the stipulation that no loan may legally be put through until a certain portion of it has been provided for in the tax rate of the current year.

At least, this is the feeling now prevalent at city hall in relation to the three loans finally passed by the city council on July 20, totalling $55,000, and concerning which the question of legality has been raised, inasmuch as they will not become negotiable until a date after the new loan act becomes effective, or on July 30.

It is believed, however, that City Treasurer Fred H. Bourke will be authorized to make a test case of the loans by making an effort to have the cities' loans will go through, but if the banks refuse to discount the paper the loans become invalid and cannot be negotiated.

If the city is unable to negotiate these three loans, the public service board may again be forced to alter its schedule of paving for the street department, for all of the money involved was to have been spent for street surfacing, including $8000 for paving a portion of Lawrence street, which job has been a point at issue for the past month or more.

While Chapter 15 does not directly provide that a loan order shall be any specified length of time in the office of the city clerk after final passage by the council, Section 42 gives citizens the right of protest by a referendum petition within a period of 30 days and bankers have been prone to look upon this section as meaning a loan order should remain on file for that length of time before becoming negotiable. Whether they would apply it in the present case is a matter of conjecture.

CASES IN THE DISTRICT COURT

Fines Imposed for Various Violations of the Motor Vehicle Laws

Tyngsboro Camp Liquor Case Continued—Other Cases on Today's List

Gilbert Phaneuf, a 17-year-old lad of Manchester, N. H., was fined $20 for operating an auto without a license, and $5 for not having a certificate of registration, when he was brought before Associate Justice Peckham in district court today.

Phaneuf was taken into custody on Gorham street about 2:30 o'clock this morning by Officer Reardon. The boy said that his father had the registration certificate, but that his father was away yesterday and he took the car and went to Boston with a companion.

Charles J. Jellison was fined $10 each on complaints for operating an auto without a license and without a certificate of registration. He pleaded guilty. The court suspended execution of the sentence for one month.

Antonio Gouveia, who was charged with driving a car through Billerica at the rate of 30 miles an hour, was fined $50 and for not having a certificate of registration a fine of $5 was imposed.

The continued case of Eugene Desmet, charged with illegal keeping of liquor in a camp in Tyngsboro, was called for trial, but after some testimony had been introduced, the case was again continued until August 23 to hear another witness, who is at present on a vacation.

The raid on the camp was made by the Tyngsboro police and Federal officers Sullivan and Hall. Previously the camp had been raided and a man who claimed he was the owner at that time was brought into court and fined.

The officers testified they found 12 cases of beer at the camp and a bottle of alcohol and Federal Officer Sullivan testified that in a conversation with two men at the camp they told him they had been hired by Deane to sell the beer.

Admits Identity

BOSTON, July 26.—William J. Corcoran, former district attorney of Middlesex county, under indictment here on several counts for larceny and blackmail, who today was arraigned in Jefferson Market court in New York, admitted his identity. It was learned at the attorney general's office, he was ordered held for 30 days, as under the New York state law extradition papers were required, regardless of the prisoner's expressed willingness to come to Massachusetts to face the charges against him.

John Mitchell, an inspector of the attorney general's department, is expected to return here immediately for the papers, which must then be taken to Albany to be signed by the attorney general and governor of New York state.

Albert Horwitz, assistant attorney general, will remain in New York for the present, it was said.

AGREEMENT ON BRITISH NOTE

French and Belgian Governments in Accord on All
Essential Points

Not Known Whether There
Will Be a Joint or Separate Reply

PARIS, July 26.—(By the Associated Press) The French and Belgian governments have reached an entire agreement on all the essential points respecting the British note, it was announced today. It was not made known whether there will be a joint or separate reply.

The French reply will not be ready until the beginning of next week, but Premier Poincaré is understood to have in mind the fact that the British parliament is to adjourn August 3, and he is expected to submit his government's answer before that date. While the parliament has nothing to do directly with the issue of the negotiations, yet it is probable here that Prime Minister Baldwin might like to say something to the house of commons on the subject before the summer recess.

The negotiations prior to the submission of the proposed collective answer to the German government in response to its reparations memorandum will hardly be completed with the submission of the French and Belgian replies to the British proposal, according to the view taken here, because it is considered that points will require further discussion with the British foreign office. Therefore, there is a strong desire that every detail of the negotiations remain secret so that the government may have an opportunity to conference the Franco-Belgian-British discussion.

DECISION AWARDED
$135,075 REVERSED

BOSTON, July 26.—The federal circuit court of appeals today reversed a decision of the district court in the federal case against the federal government which awarded $135,075 to the federal government of New York in its claim for extra compensation from the city of New York for the contract for building a portion of the Department of Public Works. The decision was reversed because the court found that the contract was not a contract for public works, and therefore the federal government was not entitled to the extra compensation.

MAXWELL WILL CONTINUE FIGHT

Declares He Knows the Author of "Poison Pen"
Letters

Says Woman Wrote Notes—
Denies Exchanging Messages With Mrs. Ryan

NEW YORK, July 26.—(Cleared by Judge McIntyre in general sessions court yesterday of indictments charging forgery and authorship of scores of "poison pen" letters, George Maxwell, music publisher, announced he knew the author of the letters and declared he had just begun to fight against authors of the charges.

"The thing will not be dropped," he said, "there will be startling developments. We know the author of the letters. It is a woman. I will leave nothing undone to bring about just and legal retaliatory measures."

Mr. Maxwell refused to say whether he would take action against Allan A. Ryan, who was responsible for his indictment after the "poison pen" letters had been received by many socially prominent men and women.

Branding the action of Mr. Ryan and of the district attorney's office as smacking of the "dark ages" he asserted that he was the real victim of the letters.

Denying he had exchanged radio messages with Mrs. Allan A. Ryan, as was charged in a brief filed by Assistant District Attorney Maloney, Mr. Maxwell said:

"I never saw these messengers. I never received them. No woman ever addressed me in such terms in my life."

pamphlets, giving facts about Lowell and illustrations of buildings of interest, which will be distributed to the delegates at the convention.

But the local men are and going to wait until convention time to push Lowell to the front. Out of the new Auditorium, the mills, the textile school, private schools and public schools, the Merrimack river dam, the Ladd and Whitney monument, and others are to be made and forwarded to the convention publicity committee at Providence, with a request that these illustrations of Lowell be included among the advance literature sent out to jewelers all over the country.

In this way these planning to attend the convention will get some idea of Lowell, and the committee here feels that this will result in many of the delegates including Lowell in their itinerary.

An special appeal will be made to the delegates to visit Lowell—"The gateway to the White mountains."

Lowell, the leading Spindle City in New England." These will be two of the slogans, attractively designed and forwarded all over the country.

The matter of conducting an outing this summer was also discussed at last night's meeting and was voted upon favorably. The outing will be in the form of a Merrimack valley affair, and another meeting will be held this afternoon at which delegates will be present from Lawrence, Haverhill, Concord, Manchester and Nashua.

NEW YORK, July 26.—(By the Associated Press.)—Denunciation of President Harding's plan for America's entry into the world court which was emphasized last night in an address by Senator Hiram Johnson of California, was studied closely by political observers today, many of whom saw in it a forecast of sharp division in the ranks of the Republican party.

Johnson declared that the world's foreign policy should be decided by the people in 1924.

Senator Johnson has been considered presidential timber by many of his friends and it was predicted that the dinner given in his honor last night would be the occasion for launching

The experience of Mr. Ballov will be read with interest by everyone in this city. It tells how a man, once sick and discouraged, now enjoys perfect health and wants others to profit thereby.

Mr. Frank A. Ballov of 94 Graham street, Lowell, Mass., says:

"I have been suffering from stomach trouble for many years. The pain was always there to remind me that I didn't have good health. Pains in my back and limbs crippled me. I writhed in agony. Was all bent up. My liver refused to work. I grew sallow, lost weight and was always tired out. I only ate because I had to. The thought of food nauseated me, made me want to vomit. After eating, I would suffer from agonizing pains from indigestion. And rising through my system, made me sick, my head, and back.

"I grew weak and worse. Everything that I tried failed to help me. But Decco did more than promise of it. Soon after starting on this wonderful remedy, I began to feel better. And I

DON'T FOOL YOURSELF THAT WHAT HAPPENED IN RUSSIA CANNOT HAPPEN HERE, SAYS MAGNUS

Senator-elect Johnson From Minnesota
Says Revolution Faces United States
if Conditions Confronting Laboring
Man and Farmer Are Not Changed

ST. PAUL, Minn., July 26.—(By the Associated Press.)—"Revolution is coming, industrial or even a resort to arms," says the United States "if conditions confronting the laboring man and the farmer are not changed," in the opinion of Magnus Johnson, recently elected senator from Minnesota of the farmer-labor "block."

"Many think the same thing that happened in Russia cannot happen in this country," the senator-elect said today in a statement to The Associated Press, "but don't fool yourself. It could happen here before you know what was going on."

The czar had a big army but he couldn't stop a revolution. We haven't hardly any army at all, so what could our government do if there was a nationwide revolution. It couldn't do a thing."

Many times when organizing the new senator said when asked if he had a definite plan for alleviating conditions, but right now he has nothing worked out. "It will all have to be worked out by congress," he said. The farmer is in dire need, he continued, and "emergency legislation" is needed to remedy the situation.

"The farmer should have cost of production, plus a reasonable profit, definitely guaranteed by the government," Mr. Johnson holds, "because the farmer's products have lost their buying power and when the farmer can't buy the country will soon feel it."

"To accomplish the desired result, it will be necessary for congress to proceed carefully, but right now, temporary legislation is needed to take care of the situation for this year," he added.

Mr. Johnson is for the bonus for former soldiers, payable out of taxation on excess profits; he wishes to "enhance the federal reserve system" and curb the power of the United States supreme court, to disagree with past decisions and perhaps call for unanimous decisions.

Mr. Johnson will have several conferences with leaders of the group he will affiliate with in congress—commonly termed the "Old Fellows Club"—before he goes to the senate in December.

MAGNUS JOHNSON

CORCORAN ARRESTED

Ex-District Attorney of Middlesex County Held as Fugitive in New York City

NEW YORK, July 26.—William J. Corcoran, formerly a prominent lawyer of Boston, Mass., was arrested last night as a fugitive from justice. The police said Corcoran had been indicted in Boston and was sought to answer charges of blackmail and the larceny of $17,000.

Corcoran, who was formerly district attorney of Middlesex county, Massachusetts, was arrested in the lobby of the Knickerbocker building and taken to the Tombs to await word from the Boston authorities.

The warrant on which he was arrested indicated there were half a dozen indictments against him charging blackmail and larceny, detectives said. He showed no surprise when arrested.

Hurwitz Off for New York

BOSTON, July 26.—Assistant Attorney General Hurwitz of Massachusetts left for New York last night with a police inspector to bring back William J. Corcoran, Boston attorney and former district attorney of Middlesex county, arrested in that city as a fugitive of justice. Corcoran defaulted bail of $10,000 when he failed to appear June 15 in the Suffolk Superior court to answer charges of extortion, conspiracy and larceny.

Corcoran and several co-defendants were alleged to be organized in a scheme to blackmail wealthy persons in this city. The 25 indictments contained 74 counts charge that the group procured women for immoral purposes, accused persons of crime, extorted under threats of publicity, committed larceny and impersonated officers. A former shoe manufacturer paid $15,000 to buy silence of the alleged blackmailers and a lumber manufacturer paid $15,000, according to the indictment.

Corcoran was named by former Attorney General Allen during the trial of District Attorney Tuttle of Middlesex county for malfeasance in office as a conspirator in extortion plots. The Boston bar association in September, 1921, started department proceedings against Corcoran, who claimed residence in New York and asked permission to resign from the Massachusetts bar.

AN IMPORTANT ROLE

U. S. Plays Big Part in Unofficial Work in Reparations Negotiations

PARIS, July 26.—While the United States government has limited its activities in the reparations embroglio to an official observer, and since the Versailles treaty has watched the problem as it became more intricate day by day, there has been a little group of Americans here for the past four years who have taken anything but a minor part in the vast work of the reparations commission.

This unheralded little group constitutes the staff of accountants with the commission and is headed by George P. Auld, formerly an officer of the United States navy, who holds the post of accountant general. He is responsible directly to the commission for the completeness and accuracy of all financial records having to do with the receipt and disbursement of money and commodities handed over by Germany.

The position of Mr. Auld with the commission is entirely individual, as he has no connection with the United States or any other government. His staff of about 200 Americans comes under the same classification.

The task of the accountability department is one of the most difficult of the commission's work. To strike its daily and monthly balances, it must deal with ships, livestock, abandoned war material, rolling stock, coal and coke, dyestuffs, and a score of other commodities, as well as the actual cash payments of German gold marks. When the balance sheet has been tallied it is necessary to render the total in marks, pounds, francs, lire and dollars. The commodity valuations have been made in nearly all the currencies of Europe, as well as in dollars.

When currency payments are made they are immediately converted to gold through the dollar rate, with roughly four marks equaling one dollar. The accountability department receives the New York exchange rate for 20 or 25 countries by cable each day, and with these rates as a basis, daily, weekly and monthly parties between the various currencies are established. At the end of each month a complete report is made, showing the amount Germany has paid to date, and how it has been distributed among the allies.

Much of this work is done by the American staff. One computes the value of coal from the Ruhr; another determines the worth of livestock in francs, dollars and pounds; another checks locomotives to marks and then to lire, while another one quotes ducks, geese and chickens in dollars, guilders and crowns.

At the end of 1922, the accountability department under Mr. Auld had whipped the miles of figures into an intelligible report, showing that Germany had turned over to the allies a grand total of $1,982,000,000. Of this sum $441,000,000 was in cash, $530,000,000 in commodities, and $1,011,000,000 in state properties or ceded territories.

The ships she had parted with totaled two and a half million gross tons, valued at $177,000,000. Of rolling stock she had delivered 1552 locomotives and 127,000 wagons, worth $207,000,000. The livestock included 529,000 head, exclusive of poultry. This was given a valuation of $10,000,000. The coal, coke and lignite delivered amounted to 48 million tons, worth $257,000,000, the dyestuffs totaled 22,000 tons, valued at $15,000,000, and the miscellaneous commodities, too numerous to classify, were determined to be worth $131,000,000.

The selection of Mr. Auld to head the important accountability bureau of the reparations commission was made after he had spent several months in Paris as assistant financial advisor to the peace commission. Although only 42 years of age, he had served a number of years in the United States navy, and was given the task of organizing the cost and financial control maintained by the navy department in about 100 large industrial plants doing work for the government before the armistice. When asked to take a post with the reparations commission, he resigned from the navy to accept.

The inter-allied accountability organization now has bureaus in Berlin, Essen, Weisbaden, Budapest and Upper Silesia. The Paris staff consists of about 100 persons, made up of Americans, French, English, Italian and Belgians.

The commodities section is headed by W. L. Quilman of Coler, N. Y., formerly of the U. S. army liquidation board in Paris. The bureau at Essen and Weisbaden are in charge of E. W. Erno, formerly in the accountability department of the Pennsylvania railroad. The branch set up in Berlin to handle the task of evaluating German war material sold for reparations was until recently directed by Captain Oliver K. Badgley of New York.

TYNGSBORO CAMP CASE IN DISTRICT COURT

Associate Justice Fisher sat until 5:30 o'clock in district court yesterday hearing evidence regarding conditions at the Royal camp in Tyngsboro which was raided by the police early in the morning of July 15. The raid was the result of a suggestion of Judge Enright in district court that questionable camps at Tyngsboro should be abolished.

As a result of yesterday's trial Octave Nadeau of Nashua was found guilty of keeping a disorderly house, and disposition of the case was continued until Sept. 25. Lewis Levesque of Nashua was found guilty of procuring women for immoral purposes and he was ordered held for the grand jury in the sum of $500. Henry Fraser of Nashua was found guilty of disorderly conduct and a fine of $50 was imposed. Laura Skavaya of Nashua was fined $20 for disorderly conduct, and on a similar charge Georgianna Gracie was placed on probation for a term of six months.

10-CENT GASOLINE IN PROSPECT

BOSTON, July 26.—Automobilists who like to think of the good old days when gasoline cost but 10 cents a gallon are due for a pleasant surprise. Before the snow flies gasoline may be selling for the old-time bargain price. It is selling for as low as 12 and 14 cents on the Pacific coast.

The market is literally glutted with gasoline. The California oil fields are producing at an unheard-of abundance and threatening to absorb all the storage capacity. Small refiners are threatened with ruin on their contracts. Gasoline can be bought at wholesale in California for as low as 7 cents a gallon, and can be hauled down here in Boston at a trifle less than 10 cents a gallon.

BETTING NO SIN, SAYS BISHOP

LONDON, July 26.—Betting on the races is not of itself morally wrong nor is it a sin, according to the Bishop of Durham. He was summoned as an expert on moral questions by the committee of parliament investigating the betting situation.

The bishop added that betting might become a sin if indulged in to excess. He held the same view of betting as he did of drinking. According to his theory, a man might drink moderately and be guilty of no moral wrong, but to indulge to excess was sinful.

He thought betting a very human tendency. He did not personally approve it, but he thought the vast majority of practical Christian men did in moderation.

PLANS COMPLETED FOR ANNUAL OUTING

Plans for the annual outing of St. Joseph's School Alumni association on August 5, were completed at a meeting of the sub-committees at the school hall last evening with Joseph Montigny presiding. It was voted to attend and receive communion at the 7:30 mass at St. Jean Baptiste church on the morning of the affair. The committee in charge of the gathering grounds reported that the Knights of Columbus had again generously offered the use of the Genoa club grounds in Tyngsboro.

Two special cars have been ordered for the day and many automobiles have been offered by members and friends for the transportation of all those for whom they have room. Those who are able to give the use of their machines for this purpose are asked to notify Mr. Montigny as soon as possible, stating the number of persons they can accommodate. Circulars will be mailed to the members giving details of the affair.

The day will be devoted to various sports for which prizes will be awarded. The next meeting of the association will be held Tuesday evening with the senate and executive committee holding a joint session.

Forty per cent of all American women are cigarette smokers, social workers estimated.

By Marine Transport Workers Division of I. W. W.

NEW YORK, July 26.—Fourteen hundred longshoremen were reported idle as a result of the strike called by the Marine Transport Workers division of the Industrial Workers of the World in Hoboken Tuesday.

Officials of the International Longshoremen's union, which is affiliated with the American Federation of Labor, claimed that practically all their members who answered the strike call had returned to work. I. W. W. leaders asserted that the ranks of the strikers were being augmented hourly by members of the more conservative organization.

BROTHER OF SWISS MINISTER ARRESTED

COLOGNE, July 26.—(By the Associated Press) A dispatch to the Cologne Gazette from Bochum, in the Ruhr, says that Herr Schreiber, a Swiss citizen, has been arrested in connection with the refusal of coal miners to obtain licenses from the French authorities for the use of coal previously allotted to the miners for their home consumption.

Herr Schreiber, who is said to be a brother of H. Schreiber, the Swiss minister to Sweden, is a director of the Bochumer Verein Chemical Works. An agency despatch from Berlin Wednesday said the French had occupied the Bochumer Verein Chemical Works at Bochum, and arrested the manager, adding that work had been suspended at the plant.

Pile Sufferers

Can You Answer These Questions?

Do you know why ointments do not give you quick and lasting relief?
Why cutting and opening fails?
Do you know the cause of piles is internal?
That there is a stagnation of blood in the lower bowel?
Do you know that there is a harmless internal tumor remedy discovered by Dr. Leunhardt and known as HEM-ROID, now sold by Green's drug store and druggists generally, that is guaranteed?

HEM-ROID banishes piles by removing the internal cause, by freeing blood circulation in the lower bowel. This simple home treatment has an almost unbelievable record for sure, safe and lasting relief to thousands of pile sick sufferers. And saves the needless pain and expense of an operation. There is no reason why it should not do the same for you. Adv.

Blessing of Cornerstone of New Basilica Attracted Great Throngs Today

QUEBEC, July 26.—The blessing of the cornerstone of the new Basilica of Ste. Anne de Beupre, to replace the one destroyed by fire in March, 1922, attracted throngs today.

The program included the celebration of high pontifical mass by Mgr. A. O. Gagnon, auxiliary bishop of St. Charles, wearing sacred ornaments presented in Canada in 1866 by Anna of Australia, queen of France. Five archbishops and ten bishops accepted invitations to attend.

DISCUSS ELIMINATION OF 12-HOUR DAY

NEW YORK, July 26.—Heads of manufacturing subsidiaries of the United States Steel corporation met today with Elbert H. Gary to consider the readjustment necessary to eliminate the 12-hour day in the industry. The conference probably will continue several days.

Today's meeting, as announced by Mr. Gary, was for consideration of ways and means of putting into effect the elimination of the 12-hour day, which involves facts and figures more or less complicated.

Mr. Gary some time ago estimated that elimination of the 12-hour day probably would add 15 per cent. to the cost of production.

One Per Cent of 80,000 Samples Taken During Last Fiscal Year Was Genuine

WASHINGTON, July 26.—One per cent of 80,000 samples of liquor seized by prohibition agents during the last fiscal year and analyzed in government laboratories, was genuine. Prohibition Commissioner Haynes announced today, reiterating that adulteration of bootlegging liquor was leading to serious physical consequences.

Drinking of moonshine liquor, he quoted J. M. Doran, head of the government laboratories as saying, may not directly cause death but its toxins are cumulative and result in death if indulged in for a protracted period.

NEW TERM FOR DEATHS CAUSED BY AUTOS

LAWRENCE, July 26.—That the term "manslaughter" as applied to deaths caused by automobile accidents, should be discarded and a different appellation applied in such cases, was the gist of the comment made by Judge J. J. Mahoney in the local district court yesterday when he continued until Sept. 17, the case of Carl A. Smith of Salem, N. H., who was charged with manslaughter in connection with the death of a 6-year-old Edward Sabu last Friday.

The prosecutor was struck by an automobile driven by Smith, who pleaded not guilty when arraigned previously. The continuance was given so that the grand jury might consider the case without prejudice to the defendant.

Such cases, said Judge Mahoney, during his comment, are becoming a difficult problem to handle, and little progress is being made in checking fatal accidents, but if some other term were applied to the crime and a different form of punishment provided, jurors and courts would not shrink so much, the court said, from convicting a man accused of such an offense, when it seemed that the accident might have been avoidable.

"Something must be done," said Judge Mahoney, "as fatal accidents on the highways are increasing daily and it is hard to obtain conviction on a manslaughter charge."

GIVES BLOOD TO SAVE TAXI DRIVER

NEW YORK, July 26.—Larry Fay, general manager of the Pay Taxicab company, yesterday gave 20 ounces of his blood in an effort to save the life of James Costello, one of his employees. Mr. Fay was chosen for the operation by physicians at the Lincoln hospital when he and eight of his drivers volunteered. Costello was recently crushed in a collision. Physicians say he probably will recover.

PRICE OF GASOLINE CUT

NEW YORK, July 26.—The Standard Oil Co. of New York today announced a cut of one cent in the price of gasoline in New York and New England. This is in line with similar cuts recently announced by a number of other oil companies.

Quickly Heals Old Sores and Conquers Piles

Also Stops Itching of Eczema Almost Immediately

"Peterson's Ointment Co., Buffalo, N. Y.—I want to tell you how much I love Peterson's Ointment for the good it has done me. My sore was on my left leg, was 12 inches by 22 inches wide. It all healed up beautifully now and then, too. It was so soothing on such a raw sore. I can't say enough praise for the good it has done me and will say a good word in your sales favor. Very truly yours, Miss Kate Kull, Sigel, Ill.

"I'd rather get a letter like that," says Peterson of Buffalo, "than have John D. Rockefeller give me a thousand dollars. It does me a lot of good to be able to be of use to my fellow man."

"For years I have been suffering through druggists a large box of PETERSON'S OINTMENT for 35 cents. The healing power of this ointment is marvelous. Eczema goes in a few days. Old sores heal up like magic; piles that other remedies do not seem to even relieve are speedily conquered. It stops itching in five minutes and for scales and burns it is simply wonderful.—Adv.

"Let us go our own gaits along parallel roads, you helping us and we helping you," he added.

Mr. Harding at the outset alluded to his visit being the first ever made by a president of the United States to Canada during a term of office and with the exception of visits of President Wilson to Europe, the first on any politically foreign soil, and then continued:

"An interesting and significant symptom of our growing intimacy appears in the fact that the voluntary interchange of residents to which I have referred is widely free from restrictions. Our national and industrial exchanges have made it necessary for us, greatly to our regret, to lay limits to immigration from foreign countries. But there is no quota for Canada. You are not only our neighbor, but a good neighbor and we rejoice in your advancement and admire your independence, no less sincerely than we value your friendship. We think the same thoughts, live the same lives and cherish the same aspirations of service to each other in times of need. a boom. Such, however, was not the case, so far as any formal statements were concerned. There were several among the guests, however, who showed at one time or another, "Hiram in 1923."

It was indicated that Senator Johnson would carry his fight against the United States joining the world court in various sections of the country. He insisted the court had its genesis in the League of Nations and was still a part and parcel of the league. European countries generally and Great Britain in particular, he declared, were filling America with propaganda and flattery in an attempt to bring about participation in affairs across the Atlantic. He received his greatest applause when he declared it was not America's brains that were wanted in Europe but her money and potential military man power.

He asserted he did not question President Harding's sincerity in attempting to lead the United States into the world court but he said he believed the majority of sentiment in the country was against joining, adding:

"What we condemned under a democratic administration we will not accept under a republican administration."

The dinner to Senator Johnson was largely under the auspices of men who supported the late Theodore Roosevelt in his third party campaign for the presidency in 1912. George Henry Payne, one of Roosevelt's campaign managers, was toastmaster. Mayor Hylan and members of his administration, which is supported by newspapers owned and published by William Randolph Hearst, were among those at the speaker's table and among the guests.

"Nobody in Europe cares a rap for the international court," Senator Johnson declared. "Many may care very much whether we get into it. Nobody expects the world court to solve any provocative international problems; but many expect that if the United States is on the way not only to the League of Nations, but to full participation in European affairs."

"However, well intended," he added, "it is a dreadful thing to tell our people that the international court will stop war or that it will have the slightest effect upon wars. It is an utterly futile agency for peace—it cannot and will not prevent wars."

The senator said he would refrain from any extended discussion of domestic questions, but pointed out that "men are not unlike the world over." "Common humanity learned from dread of war it must bear the burden," he said, "but it learned, too, it could wield the power. . . . Discontent is abroad in our land, say our publicists. Of course there's discontent. It arises not from dissatisfaction with our popular government, but with the lack of it. When we are so weak, our efforts so futile, that we cannot frame laws which will stand the test of the courts, to prohibit child labor and give women a minimum living wage, the common man looks at us, says, he even dares to look at the courts with some doubt and mistrust."

"If one-tenth the effort now being made to take us into Europe were devoted to taking our own country out of this distress and want, we'd have a happy, contented and prosperous people."

"But of one thing be certain. Humanity is determined to have its own. It no longer begs; it demands. It asks the right to life, liberty and human happiness. It will have it in full measure. I suggest to my conservative brethren that recent events indicate they must choose whether progressive things will be done in a conservative way or in a radical way. You may have to take progressivism or rebellion will take you."

But upon these domestic questions, our people will divide without protest or cant, and they will be decided in a good old American fashion, in fair stand-up fight."

Unlike domestic politics, Senator Johnson said, foreign policies could not readily be changed. He declared this fact made it important that a decision be reached on America's attitude toward Europe without haste, passion, partisanship or prejudice.

Senator Johnson summed up the present European situation by declaring that England pursues the policy of the commercial supremacy of England; France is determined to maintain her continental position and her world power; Germany, disarmed, sees her farthest industrial province seized and dreams of a future day of reckoning. Italy bluntly announces the Italian policy of nothing for nothing—Italy for Italians; while the Balkan states retain their capacity for involving their greatest neighbors, and with but one or two exceptions, still clinging to the good old Balkan method of changing ministers by assassinating ministers."

On every hand, he declared, there are distrust, suspicion, hostility and hatred; hostility and hatred of one another and distrust and suspicion of us.

Senator Johnson declared, however, that America should have a foreign policy which would speak "in tones which will cause all the world to pause." If America believes that any other nation jeopardizes peace there is no reason for America not saying so, he added.

"Since when has America become so weak and so timid that its foreign policy could be declared only in conjunction with other nations?" he continued. "I can recall when a democratic president of the United States did not hesitate to express the views of our country in foreign affairs. And I remember when the greatest American of his generation spoke in clear tones America's foreign policy and all the world listened."

"Free, independent, unfettered by me or association, court or conference, America can speak and the world will heed."

POMONA GRANGE HOLDS FIELD DAY

Pomona grange held its annual field day at Westford yesterday, and although the weather man put a stop to the outdoor sports, the remainder of the program furnished enough amusement for everyone. Owing to the weather the affair was transferred from the Whitney playground to the Westford town hall.

Luncheon was served by the Westford grange at noon followed by a concert and dancing in the hall. Past Master Edward E. Chapman was in charge of the concert and he contributed with several solos. Mrs. Harry C. Dawson was accompanist.

Charles M. Gardner, the highest officer of the grange, gave an interesting address, in which he pointed out the part the grange has played in the march of events in recent history. William Judd of Shirley grange, a Civil war veteran, also helped entertain during the afternoon with songs and recitations.

Middlesex North grange was better represented than Middlesex Worcester grange. The former had 71 delegates from the various granges, as follows: Westford 30, Chelmsford 14, West Chelmsford 7, Tyngsboro 5, Burlington 3, Billerica 3, Dunstable 5, and Dracut 12.

"YOU know, Experience is a great teacher. But his lessons are pretty expensive sometimes. I remember a case in point some months ago. Friend of mine had just got a new sedan. So, one Sunday, with our families, we made it a party of two cars for a trip into the country.

"Tom was about a hundred feet ahead of me, and we were both rolling comfortably along. I noticed a bend in the road a little ways ahead, and as Tom got up to it, a good sized roadster appeared coming toward us, hitting about 50 per, and taking the curve wide, which headed him straight for Tom's sedan.

"Tom pulled over as far as he could and the roadster straightened out just in time to miss his scared family by inches. The chap did the gentlemanly thing—stopped and came back to apologize. And from the scared look in his face, I think he learned his lesson—that taking curves that way may cost two or three lives any day in the week."

LIGHTNING BOLT PROVES SAFETY OF RADIO

If any further evidence were necessary to prove the safety of radio, there was plenty of it furnished during the severe electrical storm last Saturday. Lightning entered the Amrad broadcasting station at Medford Hills, Mass., during the worst of the storm, which was very severe locally. Investigation showed that it was attracted by the electric light wires which is completely demolished. The electric light service was paralyzed. However, the 250-foot steel antenna tower used in connection with the broadcasting was not touched, nor the powerful broadcasting apparatus, thereby proving that a radio antenna does not attract lightning in any way. Time was when uninitiated persons thought the installation of radio provided an extra fire hazard. This belief has been somewhat dispelled by the experts who call the lightning hazard of radio a "childish lunacy." No less authority than Dr. Steinhilber, the electrical wizard, the man who recently produced an electrical storm in his own house, has said that the radio installation properly made is a protection rather than a source of danger from lightning. The truth of his statement was verified by the practical test last Saturday.

ST. PETER'S CADETS' ANNUAL ENCAMPMENT

The boys who attend will be sheltered in tents, 12 to 14 in number. Fr. Manion will accompany the young soldiers and look after their needs. Green Harbor is about 55 miles from Lowell and is ideally situated for the purpose intended.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

THE STRAND

What is declared to be one of the most picturesque and vivid dramas of the sea will be shown at the Strand for the week-end, starting today. It's called "Fury" and it has Richard Barthelemy and Dorothy Gish in the leading roles. The popular star has the role of a young seared second mate of a four-masted schooner who loses all of his timidity when he learns of the great injustice that has been done his unfortunate mother. His plans to avenge the wrongs upsets the arrangements he has made to elope with a little London waitress and lead to a most romantic development. The production, much of which was filmed on the Atlantic ocean, was made under the direction of Henry King. A chorus girl can throw a pane into a small town just as well as a Zeppelin. In Murphyburg there was a clique of citizens that assumed the responsibility of beating the devil in that particular locality, to wit, a Puritan league. They roared heavily on everything that stood in their way. In a chorus of one of the Folies companies in New York was a girl who was a hit on the stage and a riot in Murphyburg. We mustn't tell what she did, just come and see her antics and then be convinced once again that Gladys Walton is more amusing and enjoyable than ever before. The other contributions include a comedy and a Weekly, as well as musical numbers by Al Forest and Leo Belencher. It's a bill that cannot be excelled in New England for the amount of fun and the quality of the program. Add to the quality of the program the fact that it's always a most comfortable and you get blood circulation. When it's sultry and uncomfortable outside, you will find it ideal at the Strand.

RIALTO THEATRE

"Outlaws of the Sea," a timely picture that deals with the methods of the modern rum-runner and bootlegger, is the chief attraction at the Rialto Thursday, Friday and Saturday. The picture shows how the bootleggers ply their nefarious trade between the island on the Bahamas and the coast of Florida. They try to divert suspicion from themselves by hiring a retired captain and his daughter. How this scheme is frustrated by the U. S. Revenue officers makes "Outlaws of the Sea," a very interesting story. Marguerite Courtet, a name of "Queen of the Sea in Film," has the leading role in this new sea story. Texas Gulman called the female "Bill Hart" is the star of "I Am the Woman," the second feature, while Leo Maloney in "His Own Law," a new comedy and Pathé News complete the bill.

There were 1,207,000 registered on the unemployed lists in the British Isles on May 31.

MEDIMACK SQUARE
The Medimack Square theatre management has arranged another excellent program for the latter part of the week, "Stardust Wings," a powerful and stirring drama of modern life, with a cast which includes Bobe Danvers, Conrad Nagel and Robert Brower, is the undoubted attractions. The second feature is "A Gentleman of Leisure," a comedy-drama with Jack Holt starred. Don't forget that the Medimack Square is one of the most successful week-end theatres in the land.

"It gets the edge dirt right out"

Is there anything harder to get clean than a dirty soft collar? Yet the grimeiest of this man's collars are now washed white and clear of edge dirt without hard rubbing

Read the letter below from a man who travels over dusty, dirty roads every day.

"My wife gets out all edge dirt from my semi-stiff collars since she took to using Rinso. She says she never could get them clean with bar soap alone and she hated to use harsh powders. With Rinso I must say she gets a fine result—my collars come out spotless—and it seems to me they wear almost twice as long."

With this new soap soaking takes the place of rubbing

Just by soaking in the suds of this new soap, the most ground-in dirt is gently loosened and dissolved and not a thread is weakened.

Even the dirt that gets absolutely ground in at cuff edges and the like is so loosened by soaking in Rinso suds, that it comes out with only a light rubbing. A little Rinso sprinkled dry on the worst spots makes them disappear.

Whatever your way of washing, Rinso does the whole job—with it you need no other soap.

All these washing machine manufacturers say "Use Rinso"

Apex, Bluebird, Coffield, Gainaday, Getz, Haag, Horton, Laun-Dry-Ette, Meadows, "1900" Cataract, One Minute, Rotarex, Sunnysuds, Surf, Trojan, Voss, urge women to use Rinso.

Get Rinso today. All grocers and department stores have it in two sizes—the regular package and the big new package. Lever Bros. Co., Cambridge, Massachusetts.

These especially dirty things always come clean with Rinso

Rompers and working clothes

"In my wash every week the baby's rompers and my oldest son's working clothes are the dirtiest. I make a good suds with Rinso and let my clothes soak. I have to rub my son's shirts a little but Rinso has loosened the dirt and it works right out. By half-past nine a whole washing is on the line. Rinso is a wonderful saver of time and strength."

Boys' Scout clothes

"My boys' scout clothes were my despair until I learned about Rinso. Dirt from the woods, from smoky pans—ground right into their suits. Now I soak them for about twenty minutes in Rinso and all the dirt is loosened."

Big heavy pieces

"The thing I minded most was rubbing the big heavy things. Since I have found out how easily Rinso soaks the dirt out of them I don't have any troubles."

Jack Daw's Adventures. Chapter 10

"I should say I would like to ride," shouted Jack, "but how can I ride sea horses? They haven't any backs like regular horses." "That'll be easy enough," replied the watermite. And with that he hitched the horses to a huge sea shell and Jack quickly climbed aboard.

"Gid dup," shouted the watermite. And in an instant Jack was traveling swiftly through the water, with Flip running along behind him. He had gone but a short distance when, looking back, he saw that Flip had disappeared. Then he heard another recommendation in the water.

Jack, of course, wanted to go back and see what the matter was, but he didn't know how to turn the sea horses around. Finally he decided to just shout "Turn around," and when he did, sure enough, the horses turned. And soon Jack found out what had stopped Flip. (Continued.)

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

Olive Roberts Barton

YOU'LL HAVE TO TURN BACKWARD," WHISPERED MISTER SKY

In Rainbow Land, there's a place where the Upsy Downsy live. Because they do everything in exactly the opposite way that it really should be done.

And that was the next place Nancy and Nick came to.

"What a funny place!" exclaimed Nancy. "The back door's on the street and the front door's hanging where everyone can see them. And the ash-cans and the milk bottles and everything."

"Forward foot worst our putting in believe always we," said an Upsy Downsy, overhearing Nancy's remark.

"You'll have to turn his words backward," whispered Mister Sky Down. "For they put their feet worst first like the Chinamen."

"Oh, you believe in putting your worst foot forward," repeated Nancy. "Is that it?"

"That's that," nodded the Upsy Downsy. "As about all you tell 'em."

"That's that," cried the Twins. But Nick had an idea. "Wait," he cried. "I'll have to write it down, for if you talk backward we can't remember so much. There now, go ahead, please." So the Upsy Downsy began, but if you wish to read it, my dear, you will have to begin at the last word and read to the top. This is what the little fellow said:

"All that's us like to anyone want don't we and odd be to like we. folk well to medicine give only and onions and breakfast babies our feed we. Tuesday on wash and Monday on iron we. do should cellars our where at-thet our and atties our in cellars our have we. but soup and first dessert have always we. night at breakfast and morning the in tea have we meals our eat we When. last C's B A our and first lessons hard other and Greek our learn we school in. around everything turn we so world the of rest the from different be to like we."

"Then we shall leave at once," said Nancy. "I'm sure we won't stay where we aren't wanted."

And they all marched off.

SEN. UNDERWOOD SPEAKS

Says U. S. Must Do Full Duty

Toward Europe — Prays

Business Men Will Aid

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., July 26.—"The United States must concern itself in European affairs," Senator Oscar W. Underwood declared here yesterday, speaking before the Birmingham Rotary club.

"The duty of the United States toward Europe is clear," he declared. "Our soldiers did their duty; let us pray to God that the business men of the United States will not flunk in theirs now."

"The wheat farmers of the west are faced with disaster; with the probability of having to sell their wheat for cost of production or less," he continued. "You all remember the time when cotton of the south in 1914 was a drag on the market, because we had not the ships to get it to our consumers in Europe who take half our crop. Let us pray the disaster in the west today may not be the disaster in the south tomorrow, for we have to recognize the fact that these are not local conditions, and where there is disaster in any section its effect is felt in all other sections."

Senator Underwood did not mention the League of Nations, but he frankly warned that "black clouds" hanging from the wheat belt brought by failure to find an export market, would cause economic suffering in a country unless this nation takes a hand "in remedy conditions in Europe."

"We may feel in the south that the failure of the wheat market affects only the north and northwest," Senator Underwood said. "But that is not the case. When our own cotton crop failed in 1914, disaster we could not get ships to carry our bales to Europe, the effect of it was felt over the entire nation. It will be the same way with the wheat failure and what we need is for the business men of the country to do their part. The result may not be felt directly down here, but every one will feel indirectly.

"We can never tell where the cloud will go to. Who among you can tell if the same cloud now hanging over the south next year? There is no golden rule governing this condition. The only way to guard against an economic crisis is to operate along the proper lines. The law of supply and demand cannot be overthrown by the puny efforts of man."

"If American business is to survive, it is absolutely imperative that our products have a European market and a European market cannot exist until a stabilized government has been established," the speaker said.

"In order that we may market all our produce in America, one-half of our crop, one-third of our meat, and one-third of our wheat crops must be sold in Europe," he said.

THE OLD HOME TOWN

Boy Scout Activities

an "ace" with the boys. Unswerving loyalty to Mr. Pearson and Mr. Mellon is the pass-word of the boys and every command or request they make, every with instant execution.

Under the wording of straight scouting activities comes camp life, woodlore, bird and animal study, tracking, scouting, boating, swimming, signaling and a myriad of other things that are necessary to make a boy a first-class woodsman.

Every day the boys go on a walk through the woods with the scoutmaster and assistants and every little track on the ground, every unusual bird-call, every mark on a tree and every other variation from what is known to the boys is explained to them by the scoutmaster. Hours are sometimes given over to lectures on a bird seen during the hike and the boys listen each other at all times.

Signaling by flag is another favorite occupation of the scouts. A flagman, a boy with field glasses and a writer make up a team and it is not unusual to see, far up on the side of one of the heavily wooded hills, the frantic signaling of one scout as he tries to get the attention of the signalmen on duty at the camp. Quite often such a signal is given because the scout has found something unusual in the woods and after explaining, by flag-signals what he wants, the scoutmaster in charge of the camp gives instructions to the camp signalman who immediately tell the scout on the hill what to do.

One of the absolute rules of the camp is that no boy may go in a boat or canoe who cannot swim at least 100 yards. This rule seems strict to many who know the safety of the flat bottomed scow but Scout Executive Mellon decided that the only way to avoid accidents on the water was to forbid boys to go in the boats who were not O.K. by the swimming instruction. To those boys who know swimming, however, canoeing and boating are the two favorite sports. The meals are prepared by the camp chef, William Sabre, assisted by a corps of kitchen police. In this department, as well as in all others, Mr. Mellon has been exceptionally careful in regard to the purchase of provisions.

The campfire, at 9 o'clock at night, is the big feature of the evening. The fire is built in the middle of the circle made by the tents and the boys gather around the blazing logs while the scoutmasters and the older boys tell stories of camp life and scout experiences that thrill the scouts to their innermost being. Mr. Mellon and Mr. Pearson know all about this phase of camp life and both have had many experiences in the woods that are interesting to the boys when retold. Some of the assistant scoutmasters are also good talkers and they tell stories that are always for the good of the scout.

ACTIVITIES AT BOY SCOUTS' CAMP AT ISLAND POND

At 10:15 o'clock taps is sounded by the bugler of the camp and within a few minutes all the boys are wrapped in sound slumber. Nothing disturbs their rest until 7:15 the next morning, when they are awakened by the raucous call of reveille.

The boys who have been at camp for the past week are tanned and hardened. Those who arrived today looked pale beside them, but this contrast in color will only last for a few days for the new arrivals will plunge in with a vim brought on by the newness of the camp-life, while the others will be content to rest on their first week's experience in sunbathing.

SAFETY LESSONS FOR THE AUTO DRIVER

Prepared by the National Safety Council—Issued by the Massachusetts Safety Council.

NO. 18. AUTOMOBILE ACCIDENT REPORTS

No matter how trivial or how serious it may be, get the facts about every accident in which your car is involved. These facts should be written on paper at once, for they may be of great value to you, your employer, or to your insurance company.

The important points in such a report include:

a. Name, sex, and address of injured persons, other drivers, and witnesses.

b. License numbers of other cars involved.

c. Exact location of accident (street, house number, etc.)

d. Date, and time of day or night.

e. Weather conditions (rain, snow, clear, dark, etc.)

f. Street conditions (dry, wet, asphalt, brick, etc.)

g. Nature and extent of accident (persons injured, damage to property, another or your own car, etc.)

h. Circumstances of accident (speed and direction of other vehicles involved, were horns used or proper signals given, etc.)

i. Whose fault.

A pencil sketch showing as much detail as possible.

In case of accident, do not hesitate to give your name, address, name of the car owner, and license number to any one who may ask.

If an accident happens, keep your head and do not leave the scene until you are justified in doing so. The driver who runs away after a person has been killed or injured is almost invariably pronounced guilty. Drive the injured person to the nearest doctor's office or hospital, and report at once to a policeman or at the police station.

If you are held over for an inquest, you may be released on bond. While out on bond, it is best not to make any statement to any one except your attorney. Be sure to appear for the inquest at the exact time specified. If held for grand jury, you may again be released on bond. Do not fail to report for your trial at the exact time specified. An attempt to evade the law is always construed as an admission of guilt.

MORE ROOM FOR THE PARK DEPARTMENT

The office of the park department at city hall is being enlarged considerably by the acquisition of the room adjacent to it formerly used as Boy Scout headquarters. A door is being cut through to join the two offices and the additional space will allow the department much needed space. The occupancy of the Boy Scouts was only temporary, inasmuch as Jeremiah J. O'Sullivan ruled as city solicitor that it was unlawful for an outside organization to maintain headquarters in the city hall building.

BOY SCOUTS ENJOY THEMSELVES TO THE FULL AT THEIR ISLAND POND CAMP

Nestling close to the shores of Island Pond, Pelham, N. H., lies the Lowell Boy Scouts' encampment. In this enchanted spot about ten Lowell boys are learning under the capable instruction of scoutmasters and leaders, the beauties of nature and the way to health and happiness.

The camp consists of eight or ten khaki tents laid out in orderly fashion on the brow of a hill within one-quarter of a mile of the shore of the pond. Healthy, clean, spring water is furnished by nature and the high commanding position of the camp does away with the mosquitoes.

This is the second week of the encampment and the number of boys was increased by 15 new arrivals who immediately joined in with the other 50 to enjoy camp life.

Scoutmaster Edwin Melton is in charge of the camp and he is assisted by Irvin A. Pearson, scoutmaster of Troop 1, Bennett John Lambert, Jr., camp adjutant, Fred Brodigan, assistant scoutmaster and instructor in swimming and life-saving, Harris Goulet, assistant scoutmaster, and Martin Flaherty, instructor in boxing and horsemanship.

The program that the boys live by is posted on the bulletin board at the camp and is as follows: Reville, 7:15 a. m.; drill, 7:25; breakfast, 8:15; drill, 8:45; inspection, 11:45; swim, 12 noon; luncheon, 1 p. m.; drill, 2:30; swimming, 3:45; retreat, 5:45; supper, 6; drill, 7:15; campfire, 8 o'clock; and taps, 10:15.

In addition to their regular scout life, there are two sports that make the greatest appeal to the boys, swimming and boxing. Fred Brodigan who has proven himself an exceptionally efficient teacher of swimming, has won the respect of the boys and taught them the best methods of life-saving and resuscitation. He is a member of the Red Cross life-saving corps here and will have a great many of the scouts capable of passing the Red Cross test before the encampment is over.

Martin Flaherty, Jr., Lowell's popular young boxer, has installed in the scouts a love of clean boxing. Boxing is one of the greatest health builders and Martin believes that every boy should know how to handle himself if he ever gets into a pinch where he needs to know how to use his hands. Every time that one of the boys gets in the ring, a standard sized affair with a flooring of soft dirt, 35 or 40 other boys gather around to watch the fun. It is a sure bet that the next time Martin enters a ring as a professional he will have at least 100 boys cheering for him even though they are not old enough to go to see him fight.

The boys are loyal.

Irvin Pearson, of Bennett, acting as Mr. Melton's assistant, is in charge of the greater part of the scout-like activities and he has also proven himself

STRIKING TELEPHONE OPERATORS OF N. E. VOTE TO RETURN TO WORK

Boston Strikers Voted Almost Unanimously in Favor of Accepting Recent Offer of Company—Unexpected Opposition to Returning to Work in Framingham and Fall River—Majority, However, Favor Ending Strike

BOSTON, July 26.—The strike of telephone operators in New England was declared off, effective at 3 o'clock this afternoon, by Julia S. O'Connor, president of the telephone operators' department, International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, at 1 o'clock today. Miss O'Connor was the leader of the strike which has been in force since June 26 for a seven hour day and higher wages.

Miss O'Connor made the following statement: "The action of the regional council was taken as the direct result of a referendum of local unions held yesterday. The telephone operators' strike has been terminated and will end officially at 3 o'clock this afternoon."

The New England council of telephone operators unions recommended that the strike be ended and the membership, in sustaining this recommendation, was influenced by the state board's assurance that its good offices would be available in making an adjustment incident to the settlement of the strike.

WALTER S. WARD REINDICTED ON CHARGE OF FIRST DEGREE MURDER—HELD WITHOUT BAIL

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., July 26.—Walter S. Ward, wealthy baker's son, today was reindicted on a charge of first degree murder and was held without bail.

Trial was fixed for Tuesday, Sept. 4. Accused of having shot to death Clarence E. Peters, of Haverhill, ass., an ex-seller, whose body was found near the end of a reservoir on May 16, 1922, Ward was led away to the Westchester county jail.

Ward was indicted on a charge of murder on June 15, 1922, but the indictment was dismissed last January for lack of prosecution.

When the new indictment was read, Justice Wagner asked Ward how he pleaded.

Ward arose and, smiling confidently, said: "I plead not guilty."

Whittier Inn at Sea Gate Caught Fire This Afternoon and Flames Spread

Three Alarms Sounded—Police Rescue All of 58 Persons in Hotel

NEW YORK, July 26.—The Whittier Inn at Sea Gate, Coney Island, housed about 200 guests, caught fire this afternoon and the flames spread to the roofs of adjacent houses. Three alarms were turned in and ambulances summoned. The fire is a three-story frame structure.

Lashed by a high wind, two of the three stories had been destroyed by 2:30 p. m. and it was feared that the entire structure would be consumed with a loss of $100,000.

The police rescued all of the 58 persons in the hotel when the fire broke out.

BANKERS MAY INTERPRET NEW LAW RELATIVE TO LOAN ORDERS FOR CITIES

In the final analysis it undoubtedly will be the banking interests who will interpret the new law relative to the negotiation of loan orders by cities, with the stipulation that no loan may legally be put through until a certain portion of it has been provided for in the tax rate of the current year.

At least, this is the feeling now prevalent at city hall in relation to the three loans finally passed by the city council on July 20, totaling $28,000, and concerning which the question of legality has been raised, inasmuch as they will not become negotiable until a date after the new loan act becomes effective—on or about July 26.

It is believed, however, that City Treasurer Fred H. Bourke will be authorized to make a test case of the three loans by making an effort to have the city's paper discounted. If it can be done, the loans will go through, but if the banks refuse to discount the paper the loans become invalid and cannot be negotiated.

If the city is unable to negotiate these three loans, the public service board may again be forced to alter its schedule of paying for the street department, for all of the money involved was to have been spent for street surfacing, including $9,000 for paving a portion of Lawrence street, which job has been a point at issue for the past month or more.

While the R charter does not directly provide that a loan order shall be any specified length of time in the office of the city clerk after final passage by the council, Section 42 gives citizens the right of protest by a referendum petition within a period of 20 days and bankers have been prone to look upon this section as meaning a loan order should remain on file for that length of time before becoming negotiable. Whether they would apply it in the present case is a matter of conjecture.

AGREEMENT ON BRITISH NOTE

French and Belgian Governments in Accord on All
Essential Points

Not Known Whether There
Will Be a Joint or Sepa-
rate Reply

PARIS, July 26.—(By the Associated Press) The French and Belgian governments have reached an understanding on all the essential points respecting the British note. It was announced today. It was not made known whether there will be a joint or separate reply.

The French reply will not be ready until the beginning of next week, but Premier Poincaré is understood to have in mind the fact that the British parliament is to adjourn August 3, and he is expected to submit his government's answer before that date. While the parliament has nothing to do directly with this stage of the negotiations, yet it is thought here that Prime Minister Baldwin might like to say something to the house of commons on the subject before the summer recess.

The negotiations prior to the submission of the proposed collective answer to the German government in response to its reparations memorandum will hardly be completed with the submission of the French and Belgian replies to the British proposal, according to the view taken here, because it is considered that points will require further discussion with the British foreign office. Therefore, there is a strong desire that every detail of the negotiations remain secret so that the government may have no opportunity to embarrass the Franco-Belgium-British discussion.

KLAN AND KAMELIA MUST APPEAR IN COURT

ALBANY, N. Y., July 26.—The Ku Klux Klan, Inc., and its sister organization the Kamelia, Inc., must appear before Supreme Court Justice Ellis J. Sawyer here Saturday morning, because the two orders should not be enforced from acting as corporations in this state. The show cause order and temporary injunction was granted yesterday by Justice Harold J. Hylan, of the appellate division, upon request of Deputy Attorney General E. G. Griffin.

Should the injunction on Saturday be made permanent, the Klan and the Kamelia, it was explained, will lose the protection of the Benevolent Orders law and face prosecution under the Walker law, which requires that such organizations must file with the secretary of state a membership roster, and copy of the constitution, oath and by-laws.

PLANS ENTERTAINING FALL PROGRAM

The International Institute on Palmer street, is planning to have one of the largest and most entertaining fall programs ever given out by the institute. Although this is the season of vacations, the committee has its plans well in hand, and one of the features will be a festival, to be held some time in the early fall.

Mrs. Helen Cassimus, who has charge of the Greek clubs and other activities at the institute, has resigned. Mrs. Cassimus has been an active worker at the institute for several years and her friends will lose a most willing and efficient friend, when she leaves for California, where she will reside with her family.

Miss Woodbury, the office secretary, is attending school in New York. Upon her return she will devote her time to the office and the girls' recreation program, which will be ready at an early date.

Miss Richard, another social worker at the institute, is spending a short vacation at her home at Bay City, Michigan.

DECISION AWARDED $135,075 REVERSED

BOSTON, July 26.—The federal circuit court of appeals today reversed a decision given a year ago by the district court which awarded $135,075 to Patrick McGovern of New York on his claim for extra compensation from the city of Boston on his contract for building a section of the Dorchester tunnel. McGovern alleged he was put to unexpected expense in the work because he encountered a ledge, the existence of which was unknown to him, and he attempted to show that the Boston Transit commission had knowledge of this ledge when the contract was given him. The court of appeals found there was no evidence of fraud on the part of the commissioner, and upheld the appeal of the city from the award of the lower court.

BANKS SELECT FORM OF TAXATION

BOSTON, July 26.—Henry F. Leach, commissioner of corporations and taxation, announced today that 125 of the 167 national banks of Massachusetts had elected to be taxed on the basis of 12 1/2 per cent of their income in 1923. Sixteen chose taxation on their shares at local property rates. The remainder did not indicate their choice and will be taxed 12 1/2 per cent of their income or may accept a tax on their shares at local property rates.

Under the provision of the new bank taxation law, enacted after the local property rate system of taxation for national banks had been declared unconstitutional in 1922, banks may elect to be taxed 12 1/2 per cent of their income or may accept a tax on their shares at local property rates.

30 SLEEPING GUESTS DRIVEN OUT BY FIRE

The damage was confined to the upper part of the three story wooden building.

MAXWELL WILL CONTINUE FIGHT

Declares He Knows the Author of "Poison Pen"
Letters

Says Woman Wrote Notes—
Denies Exchanging Mes-
sages With Mrs. Ryan

NEW YORK, July 26.—Cleared by Judge McIntyre in general sessions court yesterday of indictments charging forgery and authorship of series of "poison pen" letters, George Maxwell, music publisher, announced he knew the author of the letters and declared he had just begun to fight against authors of the charges.

"The thing will not be dropped," he said; "there will be startling developments. We know the author of the letters. It is a woman. I will leave nothing undone to bring about just and legal retaliatory measures."

Mr. Maxwell refused to say whether he would take action against Allan A. Ryan, who was responsible for his indictment after the "poison pen" letters had been received by many socially prominent men and women.

Branding the action of Mr. Ryan and of the district attorney's office as smacking of the "dark ages," he asserted that he was the real victim of the letters.

Denying he had exchanged radio messages with Mrs. Allen A. Ryan, as was charged in a brief filed by Assistant District Attorney Maloney, Mr. Maxwell said:

"I never saw these messages. I never received them. No woman ever addressed me in such terms in my life."

pamphlets, giving facts about Lowell and illustrations of buildings of interest, which will be distributed to the delegates at the convention.

But the local men are not going to wait until convention time to push Lowell to the front. One of the new Auditorium, the mills, the textile school, private schools and public schools, the Merrimack river dam, the Ladd and Whitney monument, and others are to be made and forwarded to the convention publicity committee at Providence, with a request that these illustrations of Lowell be included among the advance literature sent out to jewelers all over the country.

In this way those planning to attend the convention will get some idea of Lowell, and the committee here feels that this will result in many of the delegates including Lowell in their itineraries.

An special appeal will be made to the delegates to visit Lowell—"The gateway to the White mountains," Lowell, the leading Spindle City in New England." These will be two of the slogans, attractively designed and forwarded all over the country.

The matter of conducting an outing this summer was also discussed at last night's meeting and was voted upon favorably. The outing will be in the form of a Merrimack valley affair, and another meeting will be held this afternoon at which delegates will be present from Lawrence, Haverhill, Concord, Manchester and Nashua.

NEW YORK, July 25.—(By the Associated Press.)—Denunciation of President Harding's plan for American entry into the world court which was emphasized last night in an address by Senator Hiram Johnson of California, was studied closely by political observers today, many of whom saw in it a forecast of a sharp division in the ranks of the republican party. Johnson insisted that the nation's foreign policy should be decided at the polls in 1924.

Senator Johnson has been considered presidential timber by many of his friends and it was predicted that the dinner given in his honor last night would be the occasion for launching.

ACCOMPLISHED WONDERS, SAYS MR. BALLOV

Stomach Trouble and Rheumatism Vanquished by Drecto.

The experience related here will be read with interest by everyone in this city. It tells how a man, once sick and discouraged, now enjoys perfect health and wants others to profit thereby.

Mr. Frank A. Ballov of 94 Gorham street, Lowell, Mass., says:

"Heavens! how I suffered. The pain was always there to remind me that I didn't have good health. Pains in my back and limbs crippled me. I writhed in agony. Was all bent up. My liver refused to work. I grew sallow, lost weight and was always tired out. I only ate because I had to. The thought of food nauseated me, made me want to vomit. After eating, I would suffer from agonizing pains from indigestion. Acid rising through my system, made me catch my breath, and belch."

"I grew worse and worse. Everything that I tried failed to help me. But Drecto did more than promised of it. Soon after starting on this wonderful remedy, I began to feel better. And

DON'T FOOL YOURSELF THAT WHAT HAPPENED IN RUSSIA CANNOT HAPPEN HERE, SAYS MAGNUS

Senator-elect Johnson From Minnesota
Says Revolution Faces United States
if Conditions Confronting Laboring
Man and Farmer Are Not Changed

ST. PAUL, Minn., July 25.—(By the Associated Press.)—Revolution—political, industrial or even a resort to arms—faces the United States "if conditions confronting the laboring man and the farmer are not changed," in the opinion of Magnus Johnson, recently elected senator from Minnesota on the farmer-labor ticket.

"Many think the same thing that happened in Russia cannot happen in this country," the senator-elect said today in a statement to The Associated Press, "but don't fool yourself. It could happen here before you know what was going on."

"The czar had a big army but he couldn't stop a revolution. We haven't hardly any army at all, so what could our government do if there was a nation-wide revolution. It couldn't do a thing."

Many things need changing, the new senator said when asked if he had a definite plan for altering conditions, but right now he has nothing worked out. "It will all have to be worked out by congress," he said. The farmer is in dire need, he continued, and "emergency legislation" is needed to remedy the situation.

"The farmer should have cost of production, plus a reasonable profit, definitely guaranteed by the government," Mr. Johnson holds, "because the farmers' products have lost their buying power and when the farmer can't buy the country will soon feel it."

"To accomplish the desired result, it will be necessary for congress to proceed carefully, but right now, temporary legislation is needed to take care of the situation for this year," he added.

Mr. Johnson is for the bonus for former soldiers, payable out of taxation on excess profits; he wishes to "change the federal reserve system" and curb the power of the United States supreme court, to "do away with state decisions and perhaps call for unanimous decisions."

Mr. Johnson will have several conferences with leaders of the group he will affiliate with in congress—commonly termed the "La Follette bloc"—before he goes to the senate in December.

CORCORAN ARRESTED

Ex-District Attorney of Middlesex County Held as Fugitive in New York City

NEW YORK, July 25.—William J. Corcoran, formerly a prominent lawyer of Boston, Mass., was arrested last night as a fugitive from justice. The police said Corcoran had been indicted in Boston and was sought to answer charges of blackmail and the larceny of $17,000.

Corcoran, who was formerly district attorney of Middlesex county, Massachusetts, was arrested in the lobby of the Knickerbocker building and taken to the Tombs to await word from the Boston authorities.

The warrant on which he was arrested indicated there were half a dozen indictments against him charging blackmail and larceny, detectives said. He showed no surprise when arrested.

Hurwitz Off for New York
BOSTON, July 25.—Assistant Attorney General Hurwitz of Massachusetts left for New York last night with a police inspector to bring back William J. Corcoran, Boston attorney and former district attorney of Middlesex county, arrested in that city as a fugitive from justice. Corcoran defaulted bail of $10,000 when he failed to appear June 15 in the Suffolk Superior court to answer charges of extortion, conspiracy and larceny.

Corcoran and several co-defendants were alleged to be organized in a scheme to blackmail wealthy persons in this city. The 25 indictments containing 74 counts charge that the group procured women for immoral purposes, accused persons of crime, extorted under threats of publicity, committed larceny and impersonated officers. A former shoe manufacturer paid $17,500 to buy silence of the alleged blackmailers and a lumber manufacturer paid $15,000, according to the indictment.

Corcoran was named by former Attorney General Allen during the trial of District Attorney Tufts of Middlesex county for malfeasance in office as a conspirator in extortion plans. The Boston bar association in September, 1921, started disbarment proceedings against Corcoran who claimed residence in New York and asked permission to resign from the Massachusetts bar.

AN IMPORTANT ROLE

U. S. Plays Big Part in Unofficial Work in Reparations Negotiations

PARIS, July 26.—While the United States government has limited its activities in the reparations embroglio to an official observer, and since the Versailles treaty has watched the problem as it became more intricate day by day, there has been a little group of Americans here for the past four years who have taken anything but a minor part in the vast work of the reparations commission.

This unheralded little group constitutes the staff of accountants with the commission and is headed by George P. Auld, formerly an officer of the United States navy, who holds the post of accountant general. He is responsible directly to the commission for the completeness and accuracy of all financial records having to do with the receipt and disbursement of money and commodities handed over by Germany.

The position of Mr. Auld with the commission is entirely individual, as he has no connection with the United States or any other government. His staff of about 20 Americans comes under the same classification.

The task of the accountancy department is one of the most difficult of the commission's work. To strike its daily and monthly balances, it must deal with ships, livestock, abandoned war material, rolling stock, coal and coke, diamonds, and a score of other commodities, as well as the actual cash payments of German gold marks. When the balance sheet has been tallied, it is necessary to render the totals in marks, pounds, francs, lire and dollars. The commodity valuations have been made in nearly all the currencies of Europe, as well as in dollars.

When currency payments are made, they are immediately converted to gold through the dollar rate, with roughly four marks equaling one dollar. The accountancy department receives the New York exchange rate for 20 or 25 countries by cable each day, and with these rates as a basis, daily, weekly and monthly parties between the various currencies are established. At the end of each month a complete report is made, showing the amount Germany has paid to date, and how it has been distributed among the allies.

Much of this work is done by the American staff. One computes the value of coal from the Ruhr; another determines the worth of diamonds in francs, dollars and pounds; another reduces locomotives to marks and then to lire, while another one quotes ducks, geese and chickens in dollars, guilders and crowns.

At the end of 1922, the accountancy department under Mr. Auld had whittled the miles of figures into an intelligible report, showing that Germany had turned over to the allies a grand total of $1,982,000,000. Of this sum $454,000,000 was in cash; $880,000,000 in commodities; and $648,000,000 in state properties or ceded territories.

The ships she had parted with totaled two and a half million gross tons, valued at $177,000,000. Of rolling stock she had delivered 4552 locomotives and 127,000 wagons, worth $207,000,000. The livestock included 229,000 head, exclusive of poultry. This was given a valuation of $40,000,000. The coal, coke and lignite delivered exceeded 48 million tons, worth $237,000,000, the dyestuffs totaled 22,000 tons, valued at $15,000,000, and the miscellaneous commodities, too numerous to classify, were determined to be worth $134,000,000.

The selection of Mr. Auld to head the important accountancy bureau of the reparations commission was made after he had spent several months in Paris as assistant financial advisor to the peace commission. Although only 42 years of age, he had served a number of years in the United States navy, and was given the task of organizing the east and financial control maintained by the navy department in about 100 large industrial plants doing work for the government before the armistice. When asked to take a post with the reparations commission, he resigned from the navy to accept.

The inter-allied accountancy organization now has bureaus in Berlin, Essen, Weissenhof, Budapest and Upper Silesia. The Paris staff consists of about 100 persons, made up of Americans, French, English, Italian and Belgians.

Another American with the commission is Royal Tyler of Boston, in charge of the personnel department under the general secretary. He also acts as advocate to the commission when matters arise concerning the art treasures of the late Austro-Hungarian monarchy upon which the reparations commission has laid claim.

Mr. Tyler's chief assistant in the personnel department is J. J. Noehary of New Orleans. Heading the dyestuffs bureau of the commission is Reinhold Norris of Oregon, who has superintended the sale of some 3000 tons of German dyestuffs to the American Textile alliance on the

Associate Justice Fisher sat until 5:30 o'clock in district court yesterday hearing evidence regarding conditions at the Royal camp in Tyngsboro, which was ruled by the police early in the morning of July 15. The raid was the result of a suggestion of Judge Wright in district court that questionable camps at Tyngsboro should be abolished.

As a result of yesterday's trial Octave Nadeau of Nashua was found guilty of keeping a disorderly house, and disposition of the case was continued until Sept. 25. Lewis Levesque of Nashua was found guilty of procuring women for immoral purposes and he was ordered held for the grand jury in the sum of $500. Henry Fraser of Nashua was found guilty of disorderly conduct and a fine of $50 was imposed. Laura Skavage of Nashua was fined $20 for disorderly conduct, and on a similar charge Georgianna Gregoire was placed on probation for a term of six months.

10-CENT GASOLINE IN PROSPECT

BOSTON, July 26.—Automobilists who like to think of the good old days when gasoline cost but 10 cents a gallon are due for a pleasant surprise. Before the snow flies gasoline may be selling for the old-time bargain price. It is selling for as low as 13 and 14 cents on the Pacific coast.

The market is literally glutted with gasoline. The California oil fields are producing oil in unheard of abundance and threatening to absorb all the storage capacity. Small refiners are threatened with ruin on their contracts. Gasoline can be bought at wholesale in California for as low as 7 cents a gallon, and can be laid down here in Boston at a trifle less than 10 cents a gallon.

BETTING NO SIN, SAYS BISHOP

LONDON, July 26.—Betting on the races is not of itself morally wrong nor is it a sin, according to the Bishop of Durham. He was summoned as an expert on moral questions by the committee of parliament investigating the betting situation.

The Bishop added that betting might become a sin if indulged in to excess. He held the same view of betting as he did of drinking. According to his theory, a man might drink moderately and be guilty of no moral wrong, but to indulge to excess was sinful.

He thought betting a very human tendency. He did not personally approve it, but he thought the vast majority of practical Christian men did in moderation.

PLANS COMPLETED FOR ANNUAL OUTING

Plans for the annual outing of St. Joseph's School Alumni association on August 5, were completed at a meeting of the sub-committees at the school hall last evening with Joseph Montminy presiding.

It was voted to attend and receive communion at the 7:30 mass at St. Jean Baptiste church on the morning of the affair.

The committee in charge of the gathering grounds reported that the Knights of Columbus had again generously offered the use of the Genoa club grounds in Tyngsboro.

Two special cars have been ordered for the day and many automobiles have been offered by members and friends for the transportation of all those for whom they have room. Those who are able to give the use of their machines for this purpose are asked to notify Mr. Montminy as soon as possible, stating the number of persons they can accommodate. Circulars will be mailed to the members giving details of the affair.

The day will be devoted to various sports, for which prizes will be awarded.

The next meeting of the association will be held Tuesday evening with the senate and executive committee holding a joint session.

Forty per cent of all American women are cigarette smokers, social workers estimated.

Pile Sufferers

Can You Answer These Questions?

Do you know why aintments do not give you quick and lasting relief?
Why cutting and operations fail?
Do you know the cause of piles is internal?
That there is a stagnation of blood in the lower bowel?
Do you know that there is a harmless internal tablet remedy discovered by Dr. Leonard and known as HEM-ROID, now sold by Green's drug store and druggists generally, that is guaranteed?

HEM-ROID banishes piles by removing the internal cause by fixing blood circulation in the lower bowel. This simple home treatment has an almost unbelieveable record for cure, safe and lasting relief to thousands of pile sufferers, and saves the needless pain and expense of an operation. There is no reason why it should not do the same for you.—Adv.

Blessing of Cornerstone of New Basilica Attracted Great Throngs Today

QUEBEC, July 26.—The blessing of the cornerstone of the new Basilica of Ste. Anne de Beaupre, to replace the one destroyed by fire in March, 1922, attracted throngs today.

The program included the celebration of high pontifical mass by Mgr. A. O. Guignon, auxiliary bishop of Sherbrooke, wearing sacred ornaments presented to Canada in 1866 by Anne of Australia, queen of France. Five archbishops and ten bishops accepted invitations to attend.

DISCUSS ELIMINATION OF
12-HOUR DAY

NEW YORK, July 26.—(Leads of manufacturing subsidiaries of the United States Steel corporation met today with Elbert H. Gary to consider the elimination of the 12-hour day in the industry. The conference probably will continue several days.

Today's meeting, as announced by Mr. Gary, was for consideration of ways and means of putting into effect the elimination, at the earliest possible moment, of the 12-hour day, which involves facts and figures more or less complicated.

Mr. Gary some time ago estimated that elimination of the 12-hour day probably would add 15 per cent. to the cost of production.

LOWELL BOYS TO ENTER

One Per Cent of 80,000 Samples Taken During Last Fiscal Year Was Genuine

WASHINGTON, July 26.—One per cent of 80,000 samples of liquor seized by prohibition agents during the last fiscal year and analyzed in government laboratories, was genuine. Prohibition Commissioner Haynes announced today.

Drinking of moonshine liquor, he quoted J. M. Doran, head of the government laboratories as saying, may not directly cause death but its toxins are cumulative and result in death if indulged in for a protracted period.

NEW TERM FOR DEATHS
CAUSED BY AUTOS

LAWRENCE, July 26.—That the term "manslaughter" as applied to deaths caused by automobile accidents, should be discarded and a different appellation applied in such cases, was the gist of the comment made by Judge J. J. Mahoney in the local district court yesterday when he continued until Sept. 17, the case of Carl A. Smith of Salem, N. H., who was charged with manslaughter in connection with the death of 5-year-old Edward Sabo last Friday.

The youngster was struck by an auto driven by Smith, who pleaded not guilty when arraigned previously. The continuance was given so that the grand jury might consider the case without prejudice to the defendant.

Such cases, said Judge Mahoney, during his comment, are becoming a difficult problem to handle and little progress is being made in checking fatal accidents, but if some other term were applied to the crime and a different form of punishment provided, jurors and courts would not shrink so much, the court said, from convicting a man accused of such an offense when it seemed that the accident might have been avoidable.

"Something must be done," said Judge Mahoney, "as fatal accidents on the highway are increasing daily and it is hard to obtain conviction on a manslaughter charge."

GIVES BLOOD TO SAVE TAXI DRIVER

NEW YORK, July 26.—Larry Fay, general manager of the Pay Taxicab company, yesterday gave 20 ounces of his blood in an effort to save the life of James Costello, one of his employees. Mr. Fay was chosen for the operation by physicians at the Lincoln hospital when he and eight of his drivers volunteered. Costello was recently crushed in a collision. Physicians say he probably will recover.

PRICE OF GASOLINE CUT

NEW YORK, July 26.—The Standard Oil Co. of New York today announced a cut of one cent in the price of gasoline in New York and New England. This is in line with similar cuts recently announced by a number of other oil companies.

Also Stops Itching of Eczema Almost Immediately

"Peterson's Ointment Co., Buffalo, N. Y.—I want to tell you how much I do love Peterson's Ointment for the good it has done me. My sore was on my left leg, was 4 1/2 inches by 2 1/2 inches wide—is all healed up beautifully now and then, too. It was so soothing on such a raw sore. I can't say enough praise for the good it has done me and will say a good word in your favor's favor." Very truly yours, Miss Kate Kull, Sigel, Ill.

"I'd rather get a letter like that," says Peterson of Buffalo. "I have John D. Rockefeller give me a thousand dollars. It does me a lot of good to be able to be of use to my fellow man."

"For years I have been selling through druggists a large box of PETERSON'S OINTMENT for 35 cents. The healing power of this ointment is marvelous. Eczema goes in a few days. Old sores heal up like magic; piles that other remedies do not seem to give relief are speedily conquered." It stops itching in five minutes and for scalds and burns it is simply wonderful.—Adv.

Europe Should Heed Lesson

Continued

fred in Stanley Park. "And is it not a gratifying circumstance that it has fallen to the lot of us North Americans, living amicably for more than a century under different flags, to present the most striking example yet produced by that basic fact? If only European countries would heed the lesson conveyed by Canada and the United States, they would strike at the root of disagreements, and in their own prosperity, forget to invade constantly at one."

Should Oppose Annexation

With his emphasis upon the long huge battleships patrolled our dividing

United States. Mr. Harding coupled advice to the peoples of the Dominion to guard against giving encouragement "to any enterprise looking to Canada's annexation to the United States."

"Let us go our own gait along parallel roads, you helping us and we helping you," he added.

Mr. Harding at the outset alluded to his visit being the first ever made by a president of the United States to Canada during a term of office and with the exception of visits of President Wilson to Europe, the first on any politically foreign soil, and then continued:

Canada Very Good Neighbor

"But exceptions are required to prove rules and Canada is an exception, a most notable exception, from every viewpoint of the United States. You are not only our neighbor, but a good neighbor and we rejoice in your advancement and admire your independence, no less sincerely than we value your friendship. We think the same thoughts, live the same lives and cherish the same aspirations of service to each other in times of need. Thousands of brave lads perished in gallant and generous action for the preservation of our union. Many of our young men followed Canadian colors to the battle fields of France before the United States entered the war and left their preparation of killed to share the graves of their intrepid sons."

Object Lesson of Peace

"What an object lesson of peace is shown today by our two frontiers, no of paper, recording hardly more than a simple understanding, safeguards lives and property on the Great Lakes and only humble mile posts marks the inviolable boundary line for thousands of miles through farm and forest.

"Our protection is in our fraternity, our armor is our faith; the tie that binds more firmly year by year is ever-increasing acquaintance of citizens and the compact is not of perishable parchment, but of fair and honorable dealing, which, God grant, shall continue for all time."

No Quota for Canada

"An interesting and significant symptom of our growing mutual sympathy in the fact that the voluntary interchange of residents to which I have referred is wholly free from restrictions. Our national and industrial exigencies have made it necessary for us, greatly to our regret, to fix limits to immigration from foreign countries. But there is no quota for Canada. We gladly welcome all of your sturdy, steady stock who care to come as a strengthening ingredient and influence to the thousands of our own folk who are swarming constantly over your land and participating in its remarkable development. Wherever in either of our countries any inhabitant of the one or the other can best serve the interests of himself and his family, is the place for him to be."

"A hundred years of tranquil relationships, through vicissitudes which elsewhere would have evoked armed conflict rather than arbitration, afford, truly declared James Bryce, showed today by our two frontiers, no helped to prevent hostile demonstrations; thus proving beyond question that peace can always be kept, whatever be the grounds of controversy between peoples that wish to keep it.

"There is a great and highly pertinent truth, my friends, in that simple assertion. It is public will, not public force, that makes for enduring peace."

Rheumatic
Pains Go
Swollen Joints
Vanish

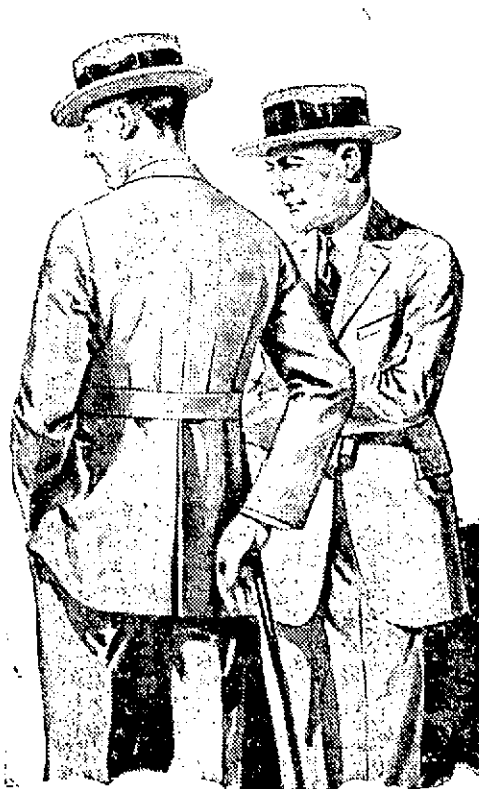

Thousands of sufferers have freed themselves from the bondage of rheumatism; rid themselves of the torturing pain, reduced the swollen joints, thrown away canes and crutches, and from helpless beings become able to work and be of use to themselves and their families.

They took Rheuma: the modern enemy of rheumatism, lumbago, sciatica, arthritis, gout and chronic neuralgia. Don't be skeptical about Rheuma. You will know in a few hours after beginning the treatment that the poisonous uric acid is leaving your system through the natural channels. You will feel better in a day; you will know you are going to be helped in less than a week.

There is no guess work about Rheuma. Bringing you back to health. That's why Green's drug store and good druggists everywhere sell it with guarantee of money back if it does not give quick and blessed relief almost at once.—Adv.

NEW YORK, July 26.—The New York curb market today made public a resolution of the board of governors forbidding members of the exchange from being connected directly or indirectly with any organization in New York city whose securities are listed and traded in on the curb. ## SEEK NEW TRIAL FOR DENVER PRIEST

DENVER, Colo., July 26.—Father Walter Grace, Denver priest, spent last night in the county jail after his conviction in federal court of having forged the name of Sister Gertrude of the Mullen home for the aged to an application for permission to transport liquor into Colorado. Counsel for the cleric intend to file motions for an arrest of judgment and for a new trial today. The court will be asked to permit the priest's release upon bond.

league. European countries generally and Great Britain in particular, he declared, were filling America with propaganda and flattery in an attempt to bring about participation in affairs across the Atlantic. He received his greatest applause when he declared it was not America's brains that were wanted in Europe but her money and potential military power. He asserted he did not question President Harding's sincerity, in attempting to lead the United States into the world court, but he said he believed the majority of the sentiment in the country was against joining, adding: "What we condemned under a democratic administration we will not accept under a republican administration."

The dinner to Senator Johnson was largely under the auspices of men who supported the late Theodore Roosevelt in his third party campaign for the presidency in 1912. George Henry Payne, one of Roosevelt's campaign managers, was toastmaster. Mayor Hyman and members of his administration, which is supported by newspapers owned and published by William Randolph Hearst, were among those at the speaker's table and among the guests.

"Nobody in Europe cares a rap for the international court," Senator Johnson declared. "Many may care very much whether we get into it. Nobody expects the world court to solve any provocative international problems; but many expect that if the United States can be lured into it, the United States is on the way not only to the League of Nations, but to full participation in European affairs."

You may have to take progressivism or radicalism will take you. "But upon these domestic questions, our people will divide without pretense or cant, and they will be decided in fair stand-up fight."

On every hand, he declared, there are distrust, suspicion, hostility and hatred; hostility and hatred of one another and distrust and suspicion of us.

Senator Johnson declared, however, that America should have a foreign policy which would speak "in tones which will cause all the world to pause." If America believes that any other nation jeopardizes peace there is no reason for America not saying so, he added.

"Since when has America become so weak and so timid that its foreign policy could retain their capacity for involvement their greatest neighbors, and with but one or two exceptions still clinging to the good old Balkan method of changing ministers by assassinating ministers."

POMONA GRANGE HOLDS FIELD DAY

Pomona grange held its annual field day at Westford yesterday, although the weather man put a stop to the outdoor sports, the remainder of the program furnished enough amusement for everyone. Owing to the weather the affair was transferred from the Whitney playground to the Westford town hall.

Luncheon was served by the Westford grange at noon followed by a concert and dancing in the hall. Past Master Edward E. Chapman was in charge of the concert and he contributed with several solos. Mrs. Harry C. Dawson was accompanist.

William Judd of Shirley grange, a Civil war veteran, also helped entertain during the afternoon with songs and recitations.

Middlesex North grange was better represented than Middlesex Worcester grange. The former had 71 delegates from the various granges, as follows: Westford 30, Chelmsford 16, West Chelmsford 7, Tyngsboro 5, Burlington 3, Billerica 3, Dunstable 5, and Dracut 12.

"In approaching a vehicle coming in the opposite direction, keep well to the right—particularly at a corner or curve in the road. Corners and curves should always be taken cautiously and slowly for obvious reasons of safety and also to reduce the strain on tires and axles."
(The Veteran Motorist)

YOU know, Experience is a great teacher. But his lessons are pretty expensive sometimes. I remember a case in point some months ago. Friend of mine had just got a new sedan. So, one Sunday, with our families, we made it a party of two cars for a trip into the country.

"Tom was about a hundred feet ahead of me, and we were both rolling comfortably along. I noticed a bend in the road a little ways ahead, and as Tom got up to it, a good sized roadster appeared coming toward us, hitting about 50 per, and taking the curve wide, which headed him straight for Tom's sedan.

"Tom pulled over as far as he could and the roadster straightened out just in time to miss his scared family by inches. The chap did the gentlemanly thing—stopped and came back to apologize. And from the scared look in his face, I think he learned his lesson—that taking curves that way may cost two or three lives any day in the week."

Dundee and Criqui in Championship Bout at New York Tonight

CHAMPION AND CHALLENGER IN PERFECT PHYSICAL CONDITION

Both Criqui and Dundee Claim Victory—Experts at Odds on Winner—Many Feel Dundee Too Clever to Permit Champ to Land His Deadly Punch—Others Confident He Will Put it Over

NEW YORK, July 26.—Eugene Criqui of France, world's champion featherweight, and Johnny Dundee, Italian-American challenger, are ready for their championship fight at the Polo Grounds tonight.

The boxing experts were all sure who the winner would be, but they were sure in opposite directions. One faction held that Criqui would win and couldn't put over his deadly punch on Dundee as he did on Kilbane, and would become flustered and perhaps open up just enough to let the challenger land a little-gathering blow. Others said that the champion's title-winning jaw cracker would be as effective on Dundee as on the former wearer of the featherweight crown.

The battlers both claimed to be sure of winning, and said they were in perfect physical condition.

The preliminary bouts promised to be full of action. In the semi-final "Irish" Johnny Curtin of Jersey City, and Danny Edwards, will fight for eight rounds, if all goes well. The semi-final event will be preceded by an eight round scrap between Leon Poutlet, of France, and Pat Mills of Ireland. Other preliminaries are Charlie Glasser, of Chicago, and Dave Jones of New York, who are scheduled for four rounds, and Tony Varicelli of New York and Joseph McJury of Jersey City, who are scheduled for six.

CROZIER HAS BIG DAY AT GREENFIELD RACES

GREENFIELD, July 26.—Despite an all-night rain and the lack of sunshine through the forenoon, the Shortt Shire circuit trotters and pacers completed their opening engagements yesterday at the Franklin Fair grounds according to schedule.

The track for more than two positions out from the rail was water-soaked, but the footing where the horses raced was first class, the juvenile trotters going in 2:10 1/2 and the seniors in 2:14.

The Hartford rehusman, Will Crozier, had the best day of the season, winning with Manna Loa and Alvin Peltier, and getting second with Eddie Purdon in a two-year-old Dan Setzer.

To round out the day he bought the four-year-old trotter, Hollywood Frisco, 2:16 1/2, from "Kingfisher" Smith, for $900. Crozier was acting for James P. Berry of Hartford, who in buying the son of San Francisco, 2:07 1/2, and Fanny Stanton, 2:10 1/2, had secured one of the best prospects in the country.

Manna Loa was not closely pressed, as the veteran campaigner Alvin Peltier, the Great Humboldt, however, he appeared to be dangerous.

The six furlong event for 217 pacers provided a race worth watching, all four finishers being in the money, and with the final one so close some of the spectators saw Peter Florentine first.

The odd race was a nice workout for Aubrey Rodney's homered star, Commodore Wilson, the fastest trotter of his age ever seen on New England half-mile tracks and now up to a mile fast as the Grand Circuit youngsters.

JOHNSTON AND TILDEN INVITED

NEW YORK, July 26.—William M. Johnston, world's champion tennis player, and William T. Tilden, champion in 1920 and 1922, have been invited to appear in a special exhibition match at the opening of the West Side Tennis club's new stadium at Forest Hills on Aug. 1.

This is the date selected for the opening in the women's international team match between selected stars of England and the United States, but officials stated they wanted the men champions to participate in the dedication. Johnston has accepted, but Tilden, who is on the Pacific coast, has not as yet been heard from.

Puzzling Plays
by Billy Evans

The president of a minor league wrote me about this play, requesting my opinion of several situations that might arise as a result of the incident. With the bases filled and two strikes and two balls on the batsman, the pitcher delivered the ball, which struck him on the head. The moment the ball struck the ground the umpire yelled "Ball three!"

After striking the ground it took a peculiar English, and despite every effort of the batsman to get out of the way, the ball struck him on the leg.

The moment the ball hit the batsman the manager of the team at bat claimed the batsman was entitled to first base, despite the fact that the umpire had ruled the pitch a ball, making it ball three.

The umpire changed his decision and permitted the batsman to go to first, forcing a run over the plate. The runner poked enough to decide the game. The team in the field protested.

Did the umpire make the proper ruling when he allowed the batsman to go to first base, forcing a run over the plate?

Did the fact that he had already made a decision on the pitch, ruling it a ball, make void the hitting of the batsman? If such a pitched ball, after it hit the ground, bounced over the head of the plate about waist high, would that make it a strike?

The interpretation

The umpire made the proper ruling in permitting the runner to go to first after being hit by the ball though he had ruled it "ball three" the moment it struck the ground.

He erred in deciding the play too quickly, and had no way out of it than to reverse his first ruling.

A ball that strikes the ground in front of the plate has no chance of ever being a strike, though it should bounce over the head of the plate without hitting.

Hornsby and Heilmann Still Refuse to Yield to That Myth About Southpaw Swat Kings

BY BILLY EVANS

Who is the greatest right-handed batsman in baseball?

Unquestionably that honor lies between Rogers Hornsby of the St. Louis Cardinals and Harry Heilmann of the Detroit Tigers.

A vote of the pitchers in the two major organizations would probably reveal the fact that there is little difference between them.

Hornsby and Heilmann are two right-handed batters who have refused to yield to the general belief that the left-handed hitter is supreme.

In 1921 when Hornsby led the National league with an average of .347 and Heilmann showed the way in the American with a .324 total, these two great right-handed batters performed the unusual in baseball.

They Led Leagues

The records reveal the fact that not since 1894 had two right-handed batters led the major leagues in the same year. When Hornsby and Heilmann turned the trick in 1921, it was the first time it had happened in a span of 16 years.

When it comes to leading the major leagues in batting, the left-handed batters have a decided edge. In the last 17 years Harry Heilmann is the only right-handed batter to top the American league averages. Left-hand batters like Ty Cobb, Tris Speaker, George Sisler and George Stone have carried off the premier hitting honors.

Ty Cobb has hogged the situation by leading the league 12 times, nine of the years in succession.

In the National league the right handers in the same length of time have made a much better showing, it being about a 50-50 proposition, due to the showing of that great batter, Hank Wagner and his close rival, Rogers Hornsby.

Hitting Around .400 Now

The year 1922 looks as if it might be another season in which the right-handers would hold the margin. Hornsby and Heilmann have been hitting around a .400 clip since the opening of the season. If they keep up their present gain it is a certainty they will repeat their feat of 1921, in having two right-handed batters lead the major leagues.

The style of Hornsby and Heilmann at the bat is somewhat similar. Both have a tendency to take a healthy swing at the ball. Pitchers in their respective leagues work on the theory that slowing up on these two great batters is most essential. Thus, a slow ball at times seems to bother both of them yet if the next ball is the same style of ball, they may knock it over the fence.

In only one feature of batting does there appear to be much difference and that is in consistency. Heilmann has arrived with a vengeance for only about the last four years, while Hornsby for perhaps twice that time has been one of the stellar batters of the National league.

Both are now waging a thrilling battle for supremacy in their respective leagues. In each organization a bunch of crack left-handers are attempting to oust them. Perhaps it would be well to render a decision on the pair and permit their averages at the close of the season to speak for themselves as to supremacy among the right handers.

VERY ORDINARY FIRE

A leaking chimney which allowed a considerable quantity of smoke to fill the attic of the house at 235 Thorndike street when the fire was started in the kitchen stove last night was responsible for an emergency telephone alarm at 8:30 o'clock. Firemen upon arrival at the house found that there was no fire except in the stove and also discovered the leak in the chimney which was responsible for the alarm.

WILLIE STARS DEFEAT LAWRENCE TEAM

The Excaliburs of Lawrence, with Mary Brady in right field, fell before the Willie Stars of this city on the South common last night by a count of 1 to 2. The victory marked the third for the Lowell outfit over their Lawrence rivals this season.

Mrs. Brady, one of the few women ball players in the country, appeared in the fourth with three men on, Richardson pitched remarkably well for the Stars, allowing but two hits and two runs. The Stars got 3 singles off the delivery of Carter. The score:

Freddy, Jack and Young Manty on Card for Main Event—Other Numbers

Freddy Jacks, English featherweight, who is to meet Charley Manty, New England featherweight champion, in the main bout of the Moody club show at the Crescent rink tonight, has a big task before him. Not only does he have to outclass his opponent in Manty, but he will have the additional burden of facing a rather hostile crowd of fans. Such hostility he invited a week ago when he ran out of his match here with Manty.

Jack's action incurred the wrath of the fans and the state boxing commission. The former, in giving the latter a "panning," while the latter came forth with an order that he must fulfill his contract with the local club or stand suspended for one year.

But even before the commission's edict of Monday Jacks had regretted his run-out and called the local matchmaker to his aid to make amends. Jacks realized his position fully, and according to word from his manager, he is going into the ring with two objects in view. First to beat Manty and by no means forgetting his fight with the fans and complying with the state officials' edict.

The other bouts on tonight's card follow: Mickey Shloss vs. Johnny McBride, Arthur Gosselin vs. Joe Dillmont, and Eddie Robson vs. Young Vandy.

PHILADELPHIA, July 26.—Jack Kelly, former world's single sculls champion, Fred McCall, national single sculls champion, and W. Garrett Gilmore were among the 12 Philadelphia oarsmen who left today to compete in the Canadian Henley regatta at St. Catharines, Ont., tomorrow and Saturday. ## YANKEES WIDEN GAP BETWEEN THEMSELVES AND CLEVELAND

American League Leaders Defeat Athletics by Ninth Inning Rally—Cincinnati Reds Defeated by Robins—Pirates Win Two From Braves and Move Into Tie With Reds

NEW YORK, July 26.—The Yankees put another step between themselves and Cleveland, their nearest rivals, when Juggins hit a ninth inning home run in Philadelphia yesterday, and the game ended 5 to 1. The Athletics had the game all their way through the seventh inning, the score then standing 4 to 0, but in the eighth the Yankees rallied four runs, paving the way of Witt and Dugan.

The Cincinnati Reds lost their game on the home grounds to the Brooklyn Robins and the Pirates, who defeated the Boston Braves twice, joined them in second place. Maxey Vance, pitcher for the Brooklyn team, outpitched the Reds and Adolf Luque and the visiting team won 6 to 3.

The Browns and the Indians playing in St. Louis, took a run apiece in both the fifth and sixth innings, and then neither scored again until the St. Louis team, with one out, succeeded in getting a run at the end of the 11th inning, winning 3 to 2.

The Pirates, playing on their home grounds, won from Boston 5 to 2 and 10 to 3. In the second game the Pirates scored six runs in the first and four in the second inning.

Detroit, playing in Chicago, trimmed the White Sox, 6 to 3 in a slow game. The Washington-Boston game was called because of rain. Other teams were not scheduled.

C. M. A. C. VS. ABBOTS TWILIGHT LEAGUE GAME

Mass. Twilight League Game
at Alumni Field Saturday—
Locke to Pitch

With a record crowd expected, Messrs. Lord and Marcotte of the C.M.A.C. have engaged Alumni Field, (Spalding park) for Saturday's Mass. Twilight league game between the local club and the fast Abbott Worsted team from Granville.

The Abbott team is one of the strongest in the league and is giving the classy Fitchburg outfit a battle for first place in the pennant race. With Davidson and Purver as pitchers, the club has a pair of classy moundmen. Henry Sullivan of Lowell and Lee are the catchers. Henriksen, former star of the Boston Red Sox, is also a member of the team, playing an outfield position. Other notables are also to be found in the lineup.

Mr. Lord announced today that he expects the locals to give the Abbotts a battle and he declared that Lefty Locke, who recently pitched a shutout game for the C.M.A.C., will be in the box on Saturday afternoon. "Lefty," Fred and Bill Tyler, will also be in the lineup.

The game will start at 3:15 o'clock.

Kinks of the Kinks

In playing from the tee a just grazes his ball on the downward swing, causing it to move about four inches off the sand tee. It is apparent that Lefty Locke, who recently pitched a shutout game for the C.M.A.C., will be in the box on Saturday afternoon. "Lefty," Fred and Bill Tyler, will also be in the lineup.

The game will start at 3:15 o'clock.

TEST ROCKING SEATS IN RACING SHELL

BOSTON, July 26.—A racing shell, equipped with rocking seats, the invention of Dr. J. E. Goldthwaite, the purpose of which is to permit the oarsman to keep his back straight while he is pulling through on his stroke, was tested in a race yesterday on the Charles river between two four-man crews. Rowing men watched the demonstration but were reticent about giving an opinion.

The rocking seat is devised to eliminate the break in an oarsman's body at the stomach while he is pulling through. With the rocker seat the action of the oar is much like lifting a burden from the ground. It was said the new device would at least be practical in teaching in the early training season.

MAJOR LEAGUE CLUBS KEEP HOSPITALS GOING

DETROIT, July 26.—Illness and injuries have played no little part in both major league races this season.

The hospital list, indeed, has been an extremely large one. Even more so than in other years.

And while most of the ailments have been more or less of a minor nature, still they have been serious enough to keep players out of the game for quite lengthy intervals with the usual moral and psychological effect to a team.

Perhaps the Detroit club has been one of the hardest hit. Players sent to the hospital have been sent to the hospital for a variety of reasons. One, a fractured ankle, was missing from the lineup for six weeks. Fred Haney, down with a twisted ankle was out three days.

Then Harry Holman was suspended for nearly a week for giving an umpire a brown derby as a token of his esteem.

Old Man Jinx certainly has been hot on the Tigers' trail. But practically every other team in the big leagues is having its troubles, too.

LIGHTNING BOLT PROVES SAFETY OF RADIO

If any further evidence were necessary to prove the safety of radio, there was plenty of it furnished during the severe electrical storm last Saturday. Lightning entered the Amrad broadcasting station at Medford Hills, Mass., during the worst of the storm, which was very severe locally. Investigation showed that it was attracted by the electric light wire which is completely demolished. The electric light service was paralyzed. However, the 320-foot steel antenna tower used in connection with the broadcasting was not touched, nor the powerful broadcasting apparatus, thereby proving that a radio antenna and a receiving or transmitting set does not attract lightning in any way. Time was when uninformed persons thought the installation of radio provided an extra fire hazard. This has been completely dispelled by the experts who call the lightning hazard of radio a "childish bugaboo." No less authority than Dr. Steinmetz, the electrical wizard, the man who recently produced an electrical storm all his own, has said that the radio installation presents no more of a fire hazard than a source of danger from lightning. The truth of his statement was verified by the practical test last Saturday.

ST. PETER'S CADETS' ANNUAL ENCAMPMENT

Rev. John M. Manion, organizer and chaplain of the St. Peter's Cadets, has completed plans for the annual encampment at Green Harbor on the South shore August 19 to Sept. 1. The boys who attend will be sheltered in tents, 12 to 14 in number. Fr. Manion will accompany the young soldiers and look after their needs. Green Harbor is about 55 miles from Lowell and is ideally situated for the purpose intended.

Striking Telephone Operators Vote to Return to Work

terday in which a majority of the operators voted in favor of a return to work, it was stated.

To Seek Reinstatement
The action of the council permits the 3500 girls who walked out June 26 to apply for reinstatement after 2 o'clock today. The council has created no machinery to deal with the return of the operators, who will go back as individuals. It was stated at headquarters here that all disputes over reinstatement or priority rights will be handled through the state board of conciliation and arbitration.

Officials of the New England Telephone and Telegraph Co. this afternoon said that they could not state immediately the number of girls who could be taken back at this time. Applications for reinstatement, they said, would be dealt with locally and the number of girls taken back would be governed by local conditions.

Applications of girls who cannot be taken back immediately will be placed on file and as temporary operators and recruits leave the company's service, they will be replaced with former strikers.

Vote in Favor of Returning

BOSTON, July 26.—The striking telephone operators of New England in their ballot yesterday voted to return to work. Miss Teresa Sullivan, general

The striking Boston telephone operators voted almost unanimously in favor of accepting the recent offer of the New England Telephone & Telegraph Co. to reinstate operators as individuals with the loss of their seniority status. Mrs. Sullivan said.

Unexpected opposition to returning to work developed in Frammingham and Fall River, she said, but added that despite this and the opposition vote recorded in Providence and Worcester the sentiment of strikers in the rest of the affected territory had resulted in a decisive majority vote in favor of ending the strike.

1. The first step in the process is to identify the problem or issue that needs to be addressed. This involves gathering information and understanding the context of the situation.

2. Once the problem is identified, the next step is to define the objectives and goals of the project. This helps to clarify what needs to be achieved and provides a clear direction for the team.

3. The third step is to develop a plan or strategy to address the problem. This involves breaking down the problem into smaller, manageable tasks and determining the resources needed to complete each task.

4. The fourth step is to implement the plan. This involves putting the strategy into action and monitoring progress to ensure that the project is on track.

5. The final step is to evaluate the results of the project. This involves assessing the outcomes against the objectives and goals and identifying any areas for improvement.

an "ace" with the boys. Unswerving loyalty to Mr. Pearson and Mr. Mellon is the pass-word of the boys and every command or request they make every with instant execution.

Under the heading of straight scouting activities comes camp life, woodlore, bird and animal study, tracking, scouting, hunting, swimming, signaling and a myriad of other things that are necessary to make a boy a first-class woodsman.

Every day the boys go on a walk through the woods with the scoutmaster and assistants and every little track on the ground, every unusual bird-call, every mark on a tree and every other variation from what is known to the boys is explained to them by the scoutmaster. Hours are sometimes given over to lectures on a bird seen during the hike and the boys instruct each other at all times.

Signaling by flags is another favorite occupation of the scouts. A flag man, a boy with field glasses and a writer make up a team and it is not unusual to see, far up on the side of one of the heavily wooded hills, the frantic signaling of one scout as he tries to get the attention of the signal-men on duty at the camp. Quite often such a signal is given because the scout has found something unusual in the woods and after explaining, by flag-signals what he wants, the scoutmaster in charge of the camp gives instructions to the camp signaller who immediately tells the scout on the hill what to do.

One of the absolute rules of the camp is that no boy may go in a boat or canoe who cannot swim at least 100 yards. This rule seems strict to many who know the safety of the flat-bottomed scow but Scout Executive Mellon decided that the only way to avoid accidents on the water was to forbid boys to go in the boats who could not swim. The swimming instructor, to those boys who know swimming, however, canoeing and boating are the two favorite sports.

The meals are prepared by the camp chef, William Sabre, assisted by a corps of kitchen police. In this department, as well as in all others, Mr. Mellon has been exceptionally careful in regard to the purchase of provisions.

The campfire, at 9 o'clock at night, is the big feature of the evening. The fire is built in the middle of the circle made by the tents and the boys gather around the blazing logs while the scout masters and the older boys tell stories of camp life and scout experiences that thrill the scouts to their innermost being. Mr. Mellon and Mr. Pearson know all about this phase of camp life and both have had many experiences in the woods that are interesting to the boys when retold. Some of the assistant scoutmasters were also good talkers and they tell stories that are always for the good of the scout.

The boys who have been at camp for the past week are tanned and hardened. Those who arrived today looked pale beside them, but this contrast in color will only last for a few days for the new arrivals will plunge in with a vim brought on by the newness of the camp-life, while the others will be content to rest on their first week's experience in sunbathing.

Scout Executive Mellon has taken every precaution that he possibly could to avoid accidents and so far he has been very successful. An automobile is always at the camp and if anyone should be hurt so that the camp "first-aid" could not take care of them, or if one should become ill, it is only a seven-mile ride by machine to the city and the numerous hospitals and doctors which it affords.

Safety Lessons FOR The Auto Driver

Prepared by the National Safety Council—Issued by the Massachusetts Safety Council.

NO. 18. AUTOMOBILE ACCIDENT REPORTS

No matter how trivial or how serious it may be, get the facts about every accident in which your car is involved. These facts should be written on paper at once, for they may be of great value to you, your employer, or to your insurance company.

The important points in such a report include:

1. Name, sex, and address of injured persons, other drivers, and witnesses.
2. License numbers of other cars involved.
3. Exact location of accident (street, house number, etc.).
4. Date and time of day or night.
5. Weather conditions (rain, snow, clear, dark, etc.).
6. Street conditions (dry, wet, asphalt, brick, etc.).
7. Nature and extent of accident (persons injured, damage to property, another or your own car, etc.).
8. Circumstances of accident (speed and direction of other vehicles involved, were horns used or proper signals given, etc.).
9. Whose fault.
10. A pencil sketch showing as much detail as possible.

In case of accident, do not hesitate to give your name, address, name of the car owner, and license number to any one who may ask.

If an accident happens, keep your head and do not leave the scene until you are justified in doing so. The driver who runs away after a person has been killed or injured is almost invariably pronounced guilty. Drive the injured person to the nearest doctor's office or hospital, and report at once to a policeman or at the police station.

If you are held over for an inquest, you may be released on bond. While out on bond, it is not to make any statement to any one except your attorney. Be sure to appear for the inquest at the exact time specified. If held for grand jury, you may again be released on bond. Do not fail to report for your trial at the exact time specified. An attempt to evade the law is always construed as an admission of guilt.

ELECTION OF OFFICERS

K. of C. to Arrange for Annual Election—Council Has Visitor From California

At the meeting of Lowell Council, 72, Knights of Columbus, tonight, preliminary action in the arrangements for the annual election of officers will be made and with this action will come the first indication of a resumption of council activities in the fall. The customary action relative thereto will be taken tonight and the election will be held at the prescribed time in September. A report at this time will be made by the committee which considered the feasibility of conducting an outing, and other matters that ### claim attention will come up for discussion.

Prof. E. Allen White of Los Angeles, Cal., a former Lowell boy, now the leading dancing teacher on the Pacific coast, who went west ten years ago with his mother, brother and sister, visited the club-house recently and incidentally renewed old acquaintances. Prof. White is a Fourth Degree Knight. He is stopping in Boston and plans to remain in the east in order to attend the international K. of C. convention, which opens in Montreal the week after next. Mr. White formerly lived on Marion street and has been abroad several times.

WILL ATTEND FIGHT

Daniel J. Shanahan, Jr., proprietor of the Broadway lunch, William Molloy of Cross street and Leroy W. Dunfee, proprietor of Dunfee's Soda Shop on Broadway, are in New York, where they will attend the Citi-Corpuscle fight at the Polo grounds. They will also take in other points of interest before their return.

MORE ROOM FOR THE PARK DEPARTMENT

The office of the park department at city hall is being enlarged considerably by the acquisition of the room adjacent to it formerly used as Roy Scout headquarters. A door is being cut through to join the two offices and the additional space will allow the department much needed space. The occupancy of the Roy Scouts was only temporary, inasmuch as Jeremiah J. O'Sullivan ruled as city solicitor that it was unlawful for an outside organization to maintain headquarters in the city hall building.
